THE NAME THAT CARRIES MOST WEIGHT IN COMMERCIAL TRANSPORT
Ford
No one else can claim the experience and knowledge that Ford has in the design and building of trucks. All that experience and all that knowledge are features of the 1940 Ford Truck range that cannot be found elsewhere.
Thousands of millions of miles of payload performance have proved the dependability and efficiency of Ford construction and Ford engines. Now a range is available that adds many improvements to what was formerly considered the best buy in Trucks!
Arrange with your Ford Dealer for an 'on-the-job' test that will show you why there are more Ford Trucks on the roads to-day than any other make.

GILT-EDGED RISE AGAIN

WEAKNESS IN OTHER MARKETS

DUBLIN

The only bright spot in otherwise dull markets on the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday was the strength of British Funds, and here 3½ per cent. War Loan spurted 30/- to 98, while other issues were favourably affected. There was renewed selling of Home Government Funds, and all the National Loans fell 10/-, while Financial Agreement lost 12/6. Conversion Loan tended lower, but 4½ per cent. Land Bonds further advanced 10/- to 104¼. Corporation issues were quietly irregular.

Banks remained weak, and Munster and Leinsters relapsed 3/- to 91/-, and Nationals fell 1/- to 31/-. Guinness continued weak, and closed 1/3 down at 56/3, while the Preference slumped to 11¼. Rails were rather idle, and liquidation was in evidence. Great Southern 4 per cent. Red. Deb. relapsed four points to 76.

Irish Industrials marked small and irregular changes, and A. Phillips Ord. were lowered 1/- to 10/-. The Hammond Lane, Ltd., interim Ordinary dividend is being reduced from 5 per cent. to 3 per cent.

British Industrials opened on the dull side, but later they were further upset by the announcement that the Shell Transport and Trading Co. had passed its final Ordinary dividend, and the shares were all sellers at 40/-, without effect. Imperial Tobaccos slumped 5/- to 77/9, and Imperial Chemical Ord. drooped to 23/6. Coats Ord. changed hands at 26/-, and Courtaulds declined to 22/1½.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS

NO "SHELL" OIL FINAL

The directors of Shell Transport and Trading have decided that no further dividend for 1939 can be paid, the interim of 5 per cent., tax free, thus remaining as the total.

The total for 1938 was 20 per cent., tax free.

In view of the uncertain outlook and the widespread destruction of property, for which it is necessary to make provision, it is explained that it is advisable to conserve the resources of the group.

Armstrong (A.) and Co.—2½ p.c. (3d. per share) on Ord. shares, interim (same).

Hammond Lane Foundry Co.—3 p.c. (7 1-5d. per share) on Ord. shares, interim (last year 5 p.c.).

Chloride Electrical Storage Company.—Profit £402,644 (against £324,995). The net profit shows a decline from £291,242 to £273,942. The distribution on "A" and "B" Ord. stocks is maintained at 15 per cent.

Coast Lines.—Earnings in 1939 amounted to £255,195, compared with £287,869 in the previous year. No payment is to be made on the Ordinary shares, which a year ago received 3 p.c. The income tax provision is increased from £9,000 to £30,000, and £5,000 (against £8,000) is allowed for N.D.C. The transfer to reserve is reduced from £70,000 to £10,000. After writing £5,000 off goodwill, the carry forward is increased by £23,460 to £140,000. During the year eight vessels were purchased, two vessels were lost and one steam barge was sold.

Edgar Allen and Co.—Trading profit, £227,165, or £85,167 more than in the previous year, while total profits have risen from £156,272 to £238,711, but the whole of the increased profits has been absorbed by taxation, this year's charge being £125,000, compared with £46,000. Thus the net profit shows only a moderate increase at £83,570, compared with £80,315. The Ordinary dividend is unchanged at 12½ per cent.

Foster Clark.—Interim 7½ p.c. (same)

Great Boulder Proprietary.—Increased net profits of £225,120 are reported for 1939, the figure for the previous year having been £172,482. Total distribution is 50 per cent. (against 37½ per cent.), and the carry-forward is reduced from £94,750 to £31,250.

Hardy's Crown Brewery.—Final 3 p.c., making 6 p.c. (against 8 p.c.).

John Summers and Sons.—Final dividend of 4¾ per cent., less tax on the "A" Ord., making 8¼ per cent. for the year; and a final of 3½ per cent. on the "B" Ord., making 4½ per cent. for the year. No dividends were paid in respect of the previous year.

Lobitos Oilfields.—In view of the probable delay in presentation of the accounts for 1939 the directors have declared a second interim of 5 per cent., less tax. In January last the company paid a first interim of 5 per cent. In 1938 there was a final of 5 per cent. and a bonus of 5 per cent., making 15 per cent.

Malacca Rubber Plantations.—Profit £50,823 (against £41,723). To estates reserve £20,000 (same); depreciation £6,700 (against £3,000). Dividend of 2½ per cent. (against nil). Forward £32,829 (against £40,546)

Spear and Jackson.—Net profit £46,008 (against £41,523). Dividend of 12½ per cent. (same). Forward £6,654 (against £10,976).

Taylor Tunnicliff (Electrical Industries).—Interim dividend of 2½ p.c. (same).

Trinidad Petroleum Development.—Interim dividend of 5 p.c. (1/- per share). This is the first interim dividend paid by the company. Last year a total of 15 p.c. was paid.

Tredegar Iron and Coal Company.—Dividend of 3 per cent. (against 4 per cent.).

Whessoe Foundry and Engineering.—Net profit £69,630 (against £84,035). The dividend is maintained at 40 per cent.

VALUE OF DOLLAR

The United States dollar is worth, approximately, 4s. 11½d. in Dublin to-day.

LONDON

Interest on the London Stock Markets yesterday was concentrated on gilt-edged securities to the almost complete exclusion of all other issues, and, with buying on a fairly brisk scale, quotations were able to establish a further substantial recovery, final improvements ranging up to 1¼. Other departments remained subdued, and weakness was again noticeable in many industrials, though fresh losses were less severe than formerly. Oil shares formed an especially heavy group, prices receding all down the list in sympathy with "Shells," which slumped to 35/-, following the dividend decision.

Buyers were in evidence for British Government issues immediately dealings commenced, and the whole market rapidly made fresh headway, with the War Loans setting the pace. Inquiries, large and small, continued to flow in throughout the later stages, so that by the close quotations displayed all-round firmness.

Conversion 3½ p.c. showed to particular advantage with a gain of 1¼ to 98¼, whilst the net rise in the old War Loan was 1⅛. Consols 4 p.c. also putting on this amount to 107¾. The 3 p.c. War Loan added a point to 100½, and Local Loans 2½ p.c., N.D. Bonds and Funding Fours were all ¾ to the good. Free State 4½ p.c. Land Bonds shared in the advance to the extent of ½ in the final level, being 105. India Stocks again showed no quotable alteration, nor was there any important change among Dominion and Colonial issues.

Business in Foreign Bonds remained at a minimum, and the few transactions put through resulted largely from persistent selling of Japanese 6 p.c. 1924 and Egyptian Unified, both issues losing a point to 32 and 58 respectively.

The encouraging behaviour of gilt-edged created a somewhat brighter atmosphere in the British rail section, but fears of air-raid damage continued to restrain operators, and consequently an early rally was succeeded by irregular movements. Nevertheless, Great Western Ord. managed to conclude ½ higher at 25½, and a similar gain was shown by Southern Defd. at 8½. L.M.S. Ord. picked up to 11¼. The Prior Charges were mainly steady, though a dull exception was provided by Southern 5 p.c. Pref., which dropped another 3 to 67½. Other rail markets revealed little of note, but several of the leading South American descriptions were inclined to go better.

INDUSTRIALS

An unsettled tendency prevailed in the Industrial Market, with the majority of movements adverse to holders.

Coal, Iron, and Steel shares were all lower where changed. Whitehead Iron had a fall of 1/16 to 2 1/16. Wm. Cory were 3/6 down at 64/-, Hadfields fell 2/6, and Tube Investments lost another 2/- to 69/-. Smaller losses included 3d. in Vickers and 9d. in John Brown.

In the Aircraft and Motor group, Fords moved against the general trend with a rise of 6d. to 16/6. Rolls Royce fell 5/16. Leylands and Raleigh Cycles both lost ⅛, and there were smaller declines.

Among Breweries, Ind Coope lost 2/-, and Guinness and Bass Ratcliff both shed 1/6. Tobacco shares had a dull appearance. "Imps" and "Bats" both finished 1/16 down, and Carreras, Gallahers, and Tobacco Securities also declined. Rayon and Textiles showed only a few small losses. Courtaulds shed 6d., but J. and P. Coats were maintained.

In the Stores group, Woolworths were 6d. down; Marks and Spencers fell 1/-, and Barkers finished ¼ lower. All the leading equities, which had marked down. Turner and Newall fell 5/32 to 2½, received support on the preceding day, were Imperial Chemicals 1/3 to 23/3, British Aluminium 3/- to 39/-, and British Match 1/3 to 27/6. Lever and Unilever fell 6d., but London Brick, exceptionally, were 6d. to the good. Dunlop Rubbers, at 21/6, were 6d. down.

MINES

The better tone in Kaffirs evident on Wednesday was retained in the initial dealings. But there was subsequently little or no support forthcoming, and finally prices tended to weaken fractionally. On balance, movements were somewhat irregular, but there were few of much importance. Government Areas came back rather sharply to 1 11/32, and Geduld, at 6⅛, were notably depressed. Others to weaken included Durbans, E. Rand Props., Grootvlei and Sub Nigel, but Rand Leases were better at 2.

There was not much alteration in Developing Mines, but among the finance issues losses were incurred by Gold Fields, General Mining and "Johnnies." Cam and Motor were flat at 15/16 on the omission of the final dividend, and in West Africans G.C. Selection, at 7/-, were again depressed. Tin Shares here and there again lost ground, Bangrin being marked back ⅛, following the report, and numerous sizeable declines occurred in Rhodesian Coppers.

OILS AND RUBBERS

The main feature among Oils was a decline in "Shells" from 2⅝ to 1¾ on the statement that no further dividend beyond the 5 per cent., tax free, already distributed, can be paid for 1939. A little selling took place, but the fall was out of proportion to the number of shares coming to market.

The "Shell" news had a depressing influence on other leading counters, and which Anglo-Iranians fell from 1 11/16 to 1½, and Burmahs from 2 1/16 to 2. Mexican Eagles were the turn easier, but Canadians were maintained.

Little interest was taken in Rubber Shares, and, with desultory selling still in progress, price movements were again unfavourable. The Raw Rubber market remained quiet, but the fall in prices was arrested. Both spot and August closed without alteration at 13½d. and 13d., respectively.

THE MONEY MARKET

The market contraction in the demand for bills provided the main feature of yesterday's Money Market. The weekly Bank of England return showed virtually no change in bankers' balances at over £103,000,000, so that the falling off in the demand for bills can hardly be attributed to a deterioration in the credit position—more probably it is the result of preparations by the banks for the approaching year-end. Whole "window-dressing" is indulged in these days to a much smaller extent than in pre-war days, some strengthening of cash ratios will probably be considered necessary.

There was no indication of extensive official activity in the market, but in view of the virtual certainty that official intervention will take place when necessary the contraction in the demand for bills failed to cause any advance in rates. The credit situation, though less comfortable than of late, was not strained, borrowers being able to secure their full needs on the usual terms.

Silver was depressed by a little general selling, spot falling 1/16d. to 22 1/16d. per ounce, and forward 1/16d. to 21⅞d.

There were no material changes in London exchange rates.

STORE CATTLE SALES

MESSRS. GAVIN LOW, LTD.

Larger numbers were forwarded for this week's store sale by Messrs. Gavin Low, Ltd., at 50 Prussia street, Dublin, and included many useful lots of A.A. and Shorthorn bullocks and heifers. There was, however, not so good an attendance of home or cross-Channel buyers, and trade, in sympathy with the beef market, was weaker. Prices per cwt. must be quoted lower, but cattle are now weighing well, and prices per head would show little change. Small and younger types of cattle met a dragging trade, with prices lower, and some of these remained unsold. The following are the principal transactions:—Mrs. Power's A.A. heifers £18, and ditto bullocks £17 15/-; Mr. J. Murphy's A.A. heifers £14 10/-, Mr. P. Stapleton's Shorthorn heifers £14 17/6, Mr. W. A. Robinson's A.A. bullocks £26, Mr. W. E. Kelly's bullocks £27 5/-, Mr. G. Denneher's Hereford bullocks £23 10/-, Mrs. Ronaldson's A.A. bullocks £21 10/-, Mr P. Byrne's A.A. bullocks £23 10/-.

MESSRS. GANLY AND SONS.

Very large numbers on offer, and included a very good selection of all classes. Good attendance of buyers, but with the uncertain position in England and the lack of rain, trade was not so good as last week, and prices were generally from 2/- to 3/- lower. Sellers, however, were inclined to meet the market, and a reasonably good clearance was effected. Best lots of A.A. cross and Hereford cross bullocks and heifers made from 52/- to 54/- per cwt., with some extra choice lots of bullocks making up to 56/- and 58/- per cwt. Horned and polly bullocks best lots 48/- to 52/- per cwt. Secondary and useful sorts of all classes made from 46/- to 48/- per cwt.

MESSRS. CRAIGIE BROS.

With both cross-Channel and home buyers in a quiet mood, prices for all classes of cattle were easier. Aged forward conditioned cattle in demand at the lower rates ruling. Well-bred young stock also wanted, but bullocks and heifers in poor condition were difficult to clear. The principal sellers were:—Mrs. Butler, A.A. cross bullocks, £25 10/-; Hereford cross bullocks, £25 10/-; T. H. Carter, horned bullocks, £25 10/ and £21; John Hill, A.A. cross heifers, £23 5/-; Mr. Bartley, Hereford cross heifers, £20 15/-; H. McCausland, Hereford cross heifers, £21 10/-; J. W. Greated, Hereford cross bullocks, £20, heifers, ditto, £19; J. P. Hunte, Hereford cross heifers, £20 and £19; Joseph Lynch, Hereford cross heifers, £19 10/-; Joseph Curran, Shorthorn bullocks, £19 15/-, etc. Young stock from £16 to £8 10/-.

In the Ulster Commons yesterday, the Industrial Assurance and Friendly Societies (Emergency Protection from Forfeiture) Bill passed through Committee without amendment, and was read a third time.

OLD DUBLIN PRINTS FETCH RECORD PRICES

A set of twelve "Brocas" coloured views of Dublin fetched 90 guineas at the furniture auction at "Esterel," Temple road, Dartry, yesterday, the third day of the sale, conducted by Messrs. Battersby and Co. Over 1,200 lots came under the hammer during the three days, and there was unflagging interest up to the last "fall." Other interesting items for which there was keen bidding were (quoted in guineas):—Sheraton oval table, 15; walnut bureau and bookcase, 13½; Axminster stair carpeting, 30; Chatel design revolving summerhouse, 35; composition bird bath, 6; eight coloured (small) Irish views, 5; "Talbot" 1935 model saloon car, 105.

Messrs. Battersby and Co. also sold during the past week the premises at Lower Gardiner street, formerly owned by Messrs. T. W. and J. Kelly, Ltd., wine merchants, before the transfer to more central premises at 58 Upper O'Connell street, at a very satisfactory price. Other sales during the past few days by the same firm included over £500 per annum of fee-simple ground rents at 16½ years' purchase. The firm states that this form of investment is very much in demand at present, and that the supply is not quite equal to the demand.

WALL STREET EASY

(FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.)

NEW YORK, Thursday.

Traders to-day were mostly on the side lines pending armistice developments, and the bright domestic business news was offset by the discussion on higher taxation and the shifting political winds, as well as by the European situation.

The turnover of 590,000 shares comprised 609 issues, of which 181 advanced and 309 declined.

Trading during the morning was very quiet, and mixed with movements mostly fractional. Steels, Coppers and Aircrafts were inclined to slip, but the Utilities were supported. Awaiting fresh incentives, the market turned idle in the afternoon, with the majority ranging to a point lower. The market continued very dull and narrow, with the final list mostly ranging to a point lower.

The close was easy.

Sterling exchange opened 2½ points lower at $3.56, and closed 4½ points down at $3.54. Silver was unchanged at 34¾c.

BEES HOLD UP MARKET

FARMERS STUNG, CATTLE RUN AMOK

ROSCREA, Thursday.

A swarm of bees alighted on the Market square, Roscrea, to-day when hundreds of farmers were attending to their weekly business. Dozens of people were stung and cattle passing by ran amok. The queen bee alighted on the number plate of a commercial van owned by a Dublin traveller and all the bees crawled on to the car. After an exciting chase through the streets in an attempt to shake off the bees, the traveller returned with thousands buzzing around the car. Later a local man collected the bees with a sheet and a hive, but not before hundreds were killed by passing cars.

WOOL

BRADFORD.—There is no export trade with Europe at the moment, and any new business is restricted to American continent and overseas Dominions. The limited supplies of cross-bred yarns available for civil trade are a shade dearer, but spot lots of Botany yarn originally intended for export to the Continent are being reoffered at slightly easier prices.

WOOL.—C. F. MACAULAY & CO., LTD., 13 Haymarket, Dublin, send their compliments to their many clients throughout the country. Business as usual. Telegrams: "Woolco, Dublin." Telephones: 76705-76706. (Advt.)

FOOD AND PRODUCE MARKETS

CATTLE.

DUBLIN (METROPOLITAN).

	Numbers on sale this week as compared with last.	Corresponding weeks of 1939.	1938.
Beasts	1,175—increase 119	1,609	2,498
Sheep and lambs	6,570—increase 107	9,187	8,595
Veal calves	3	7	6

Although supplies were larger than last week, the numbers and quality of cattle here this morning were much below average for season. Buyers embraced much the same following as before, but in the present apathetic disposition in trade market proved slow enough to clear. Altogether, cattle sales moved in a quiet groove, with shippers indifferent unless where they could secure suitable drafts of beasts around their own terms. These mostly were much under what owners were disposed to entertain. Butchers, too, were more cautious, as consumptive demand has shown some further falling off. In the circumstances, nothing was too seriously bid for, and, except for the real choice article, prices were inclined to sag further at: Best bullocks and heifers, 53/6 to 54/6; extra, 55/- to 56/-; secondary sorts, 51/- to 52/6; rougher around 46/- to 50/- per cwt. As compared with corresponding market last year, prices show an increase of 11/- to 12/6 and 12/- to 14/- per cwt. dearer on same period 1938. Beef cows also in small supply for season, but, with few anxious buyers in attendance, sales were difficult to push; in fact, after the nicer sorts were disposed of lower rates were accepted in an effort to clear, which did not seem possible at a late hour, when values were:—Best young cows, 36/- to 38/-; extra, 40/- to 42/- and 45/-; secondary sorts, 30/- to 33/-; others, 19/- to 26/- per cwt.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

Supplies showed an increase of over 100 head on last week, with quality fairly useful. There was a readier sale for all medium-weighted sheep of the right sort. With the exception of these, market proved tedious and irregular; in fact, heavy classes of sheep were almost neglected, while anything short of meated condition failed to draw a bid. Both exporters and Belfast buyers showed more interest in suitable lambs, but small and thin sorts failed to attract attention, and were returned to owners unsold. Best mutton, 10d. to 11d.; extra, 11½d.; useful quality, 8d. to 9d.; rougher, 5½d. to 6½d. per lb.; and lambs, 23/- to 36/-; extra, 38/- to 40/-; outstanding lots, 45/- to 52/- per head.

DAIRY CATTLE.

	Numbers on sale this week as compared with last.	Corresponding weeks of 1939.	1938.
Beasts	439—increase 96	518	270

Increased supplies, with quality on the whole somewhat improved. Most of the shippers and dairymen were in attendance, but throughout showed an idle and reserved disposition, unless where they could purchase suitable animals around their own terms, which were a good £2 to £3 per head under previous values. In dealing with secondary cows, sales were most erratic and values difficult to gauge; in fact, many useful beasts were still to find buyers at a late hour, when prices were: Best cows and heifers, £20 to £22; extra, £23 and £24; secondary sorts, £16 to £19; others, £13 to £15 per head.

PIGS.

	Numbers on sale this week as compared with last.	Corresponding weeks of 1939.	1938.
Pigs	1,016—increase 67	1,176	1,255

The moderate numbers of pigs to deal with here this week failed to improve trade, which again ran in a dull groove from opening. Buyers in pork interests gave fair support, but bacon hogs were less wanted, and failed to clear except at prices which most owners could not entertain. Sows, slips and bonhams met a fairly steady sale around previous values. Prime light to medium-weight hogs, 85/- to 88/-; heavier, 72/- to 78/-; sows, 62/- to 68/- per cwt.; slips and bonhams, 22/- to 48/- per head.

YORK.—Very few buyers. Up to £33 for three-year-old bullocks, two-year bullocks £18 10/-, stirks up to £14 10/-. No English stores on offer. Small show of sheep included masham hoggs at 34/- to 46/-; ewes (lamb at foot) 74/-.

BRISTOL.—Business mainly of a holiday character, farmers being at home hay-making. Short supply of store cattle and little business done. There were 117 fresh Irish and 50 English. Three-year-olds made to £24, two-year-olds £19 to £21, and dairy heifers £16 to £18. There were very few milch cattle, and prices were about the same as last week: best up to £24, others £20 to £22.

GRIMSBY FISH.—Salmon 2/- per lb.; plaice 18/- to 19/-, small haddocks 8/- to 9/6, medium 8/- to 11/-, large 8/- to 11/6; cod 11/-, witches 12/- to 17/6, roker 11/- to 13/-, dogfish 11/-, coalfish 9/-, smoked haddocks 11/- to 16/-, smoked fillets 16/-, kippers 9/-, and lemon soles 17/- per stone.

CARDIFF.—In the provision markets in this district bacon supplies were fairly good, and the smaller allocations of butter were taken up regularly. Wholesale prices were maintained, with bacon ranging from 113/6 to 141/6 per cwt. Hams 118/6 to 128/6, and butter 150/- per cwt. Eirean eggs were still quoted at 14/9 to 17/- per 120, while the rather higher poultry prices ruling last week were sustained, with chickens at 1/2 to 1/6, and hens 8d. to 11d. per lb.

BRISTOL.—Despite the reduced ration allocations were invariably in excess of requirements. The following prices are those charged by agents of the Ministry of Food, per cwt., carriage paid, on the occasion of a sale to a nominated wholesaler. Wiltshire cut sides 113/6, spencers 111/6, middles 122/6, backs cut in the United Kingdom 141/6, cut outside the United Kingdom 131/6; streaks 84/6, gammons or hams, green 118/6, smoked 128/6, forehocks and picnics (free of ration) 70/6 per cwt.; and on the occasion of any other sale 11/6 per cwt. additional is charged. ROYAL ZOOLOGICAL SOCIETY

ANNUAL DANCE

The annual dance, held by members of the Royal Zoological Society of Ireland in the Gardens at Phœnix Park last night, repeated the success of former years, and attracted more than five hundred people.

Bridge players were catered for, and dancing continued until a late hour, to the music of Jack Reeves's Band.

Raffles for valuable prizes contributed to the success of the evening. The arrangements were in charge of a large and capable committee.

Lady HolmPatrick, who brought a large party, wore black, with touches of scarlet, and Mrs. O'Rorke wore a shoulder cape of mink over a black lace dress, with an apple green belt.

Lady Moore also chose black, with a bolero of Limerick lace, and long white gloves.

Lady Robinson came in a gown of navy blue stiffened chiffon, and Mrs. Allan Gordon, who was chairman of the Ladies' Committee, looked well in black lace, with white flowers at the waist.

Lady Taylor was wearing black, and Mrs. Stewart had a pretty dress of black shadow lace.

Mrs. Maurice Horan wore a full-skirted dress of flame-coloured chiffon, and Mrs. Brian Pringle had a silver fox cape and a multi-coloured taffeta dress.

Mme. Osterberg chose a figured gown in fuchsia colourings, and Mrs. J. Shackleton came in a blue organdie dress, with a white piqué jacket.

Mrs. O'Donel Browne wore a full-skirted dress of white spotted net, with camellias on the bodice, and Miss Dunbar had a Parma violet gown, with a jacket of a deeper shade.

Mrs. Matson was wearing black lace over pink, and Mrs. Bigger wore a picture gown of black and grey striped stiffened chiffon, with a cherry coloured moiré belt.

STUDENTS' MUSICAL UNION

SUCCESSFUL "AT HOME"

The Minister for Education and Mrs. Derrig were guests at last night's "At Home" of the Students' Musical Union, held in the Royal Irish Academy of Music, Westland row, Dublin. The function was the concluding gathering of the season, and musically it was one of the most enjoyable. A well varied programme, with a judicious blending of vocal and instrumental music, was presented. On the vocal side there was pleasant singing by Mr. Joseph O'Reilly of a group of Irish songs. Fine interpretation marked all the songs, though the singer was inclined to hold up the rhythm. Mr. Patrick Kirwan sang very artistically a contrasting group of songs by Cyril Scott and Frank Bridge. "Love's Quarrel" was well painted. Mr. Jack O'Connor also showed nice touches in his singing of Valerie White's "So we'll go no more a-roving," and of Vaughan Williams's "The Vagabond," though the voice was hardly full enough to catch the full sweep of the latter song.

There was some very accomplished piano playing, opening with piano duets by Betty Jones and Frank Haughey. They showed good understanding and team work in Gurlitt's "Hussars March" and "Humoresque." Shiela Ryan played Esposito's "Remembrance" and "Impromptu" with delicate appeal. There was a nice range of colour in her playing. Patricia Herbert also did well in the Mendelssohn Song without Words, and in a Debussy piece. There was some exceptionally good 'cello playing by Noreen O'Neill and Kathleen Pollacky, and Fanny Feehan and Carmel Lang brought out good musical qualities in their violin playing. The Mendelssohn Piano Concerto was a capital item on which to close. The soloist was Vera Bryans with Miss Dorothy Stokes at the second piano.

Among those present were:—Mr. Dermod O'Brien, P.R.H.A.; Mr. Joseph Holloway, Mrs. Rita Broderick (President of the Union); Dina Copeman, Annie McDonnell, Posy Schreider, Herbert South, Alice Yoakley, H. Hope Johnstone, Dr. Annie Keelan (Hon. Treasurer), and Dorothy Stokes (Hon. Secretary).

ARCHITECT'S CLAIM FAILS

INTERESTING BELFAST CASE

Is an architect who joins the Territorials as a Sapper in the R.E. entitled to fees for professional work done in his spare time after his enlistment? was the question set the Lord Chief Justice in the King's Bench, Belfast, yesterday in an unusual record in which Thomas Albert Crawley, architect, 58 Brunswick road, Bangor, sued the County Antrim Territorial Army and Air Force Association, with registered offices at 5 Bedford street, Belfast, to recover £125 for work and labour done in preparing plans for the erection of a drill hall at Girdwood Park, Belfast, also for damages for breach of contract to employ plaintiff as architect for the erection of the drill hall, and alternatively for the return of all plans, sketches, and for an injunction restraining the defendants from making us of the plans.

Defendants, in their reply, contend that plaintiff was at the time a tradesman and was paid tradesmn's wages.

Colonel D. C. Lindsay and Major J. Maynard Sinclair gave evidence that plaintiff was earmarked as a draughtsman in the company, and there was never any suggestion that he should receive payment for the plans.

The Lord Chief Justice said that he was satisfied the plaintiff did the work on a voluntary basis and his claim could not possibly succeed.

IRISH WILLS

Mr. Thomas Francis Dillon, of Dunboyne, Meath, who died on March 31st last, has left personal estate in Eire of the value of £5,976.

Mrs. Rebecca McCullagh, of 110 Donore terrace, South Circular road, Dublin, who died on January 19th last, left estate in England and Eire valued at £6,078.

The Ulster Government's arrangements for the evacuation of nearly 50,000 school children from Belfast have been completed for some time past, and when order is given the scheme can be put into operation immediately.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT

POISON IN MILK ALLEGED

BROTHERS CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED MURDER

COURT STORY OF DOGS' DEATHS

(BEFORE THE PRESIDENT OF THE HIGH COURT.)

THOMAS LYNCH (50) and Hugh Lynch (39), brothers, of Scotstown, Navan, Co. Meath, were charged with conspiring and attempting to murder, by administering a poison, John Springham, a farmer, also of Scotstown. The accused men pleaded "not guilty."

Mr. P. J. McEnery, K.C., and Mr. C. O'Daly (instructed by the Chief State Solicitor), prosecuted; and Mr. M. J. Sweeney (instructed by Mr. J. C. McKenna, solicitor, Kells), defended.

THE EVIDENCE

John Springham, in evidence, said that he was born in Ireland, but went to Australia, where he spent fifty years. About five years ago he returned to this country, and bought a farm at Scotstown; but after two years he went back to Australia. He returned again in 1937, bringing with him £1,600, which he deposited in the Provincial Bank at Drogheda. The Lynchs lived very near his home, and in 1938 he let his land to Thomas Lynch, for which he received £25.

For a subsequent letting witness received a cheque for £27. After keeping it for some days Hugh Lynch suggested that he would take it to the bank, and witness agreed. Subsequently, as a result of a communication which he received from the bank, the witness told Hugh Lynch that the cheque was a dummy one. He later told Tom Lynch that if he did not pay up he would put the matter in the hands of a solicitor. Some days afterwards—on a Saturday—he and a friend called Fox had some tea, for which they used up all the milk in the house.

A CAN OF MILK

While Fox was there witness's doctor came to examine him. Hugh Lynch was there, too. When the doctor was leaving, the witness told Hugh Lynch to come in the evening to cut his hair. Lynch came and brought a can of milk. Witness put the milk in his "billycan," having scalded the latter. No one else called that evening. Witness had two dogs, which he kept in the kitchen at night. That night they were kept in, as usual.

BITTER TASTE

When witness got up about 8 a.m. on Sunday he prepared a cup of cold tea which he had made the previous day. He put some of the milk which Hugh Lynch had brought into the cup. He tasted the tea and found that it was very bitter—worse than gall—and he spat it out. He decided then to give the milk in the can to the dogs. The smaller dog drank some of it and then went towards the fireplace and fell dead. The larger dog, after taking some of the milk, "receded" towards the door and was dead in two minutes.

"BE OFF"

That evening Hugh Lynch called at his house and asked him what was wrong with him. Witness told him "to be off," and he went away. Guard Connolly took away the remains of the milk. Witness usually got his milk from the Lynch's every day; about last April Hugh brought it. Hugh Lynch helped him in his business affairs and usually drew cheques for him for a couple of years.

Witness said that a number of cheques which were purported to be drawn by him did not bear his signature.

In reply to Mr. Sweeney, the witness said that he had been a ploughman and horse-driver in Australia.

Answering a question as to whether he was not a good spender, the witness said that he had never spent more than £1 in a public-house and then he would not be seen in one for twelve months.

The Court rose until to-day at 11 a.m.

Of Interest to Women

BEAUTY CARE

SOME USEFUL HINTS

IN these days when the blast of war blows in our ears, at times almost threatening to burst our ear-drums, it is increasingly hard to attend to the small things of everyday life which make up the daily round in times of peace. And yet attention to these details is of greater importance now than at any other time; for it forms an essential part of the all-important business of "carrying-on," the strongest, in fact the only reliable antidote to the poison of "nerves."

Beauty care cannot, or should not, be grouped as one of the small things in every woman's daily life, in fact its place should be an honoured one, and in time of war it should keep its proportion. Everything tends to become simpler; there is so much to be done during the waking hours, and though inevitably less elaborate, the details of the toilette still merit their share of attention.

In clothing, make-up, hair-dressing, and all the other items which contribute to the appearance, the simple note is apparent. The choice in clothes is inevitably more limited, and we are thrown back on the necessity of making the best of the limitations by invoking extra assistance from complexion and care of the hair, nails and figure to contribute rather more than their usual share of the general turnout.

COMPLEXION

In the matter of complexion care we are, fortunately, well provided for here, several first-class manufacturers of the accessories being established in the country. The fundamental need of a good complexion is good health, for the best products of the leading make-up experts can do little with a greasy or spotty skin. Given a good skin and a little first-class artificial aid, the final result will be most attractive, and, possibly the most important point, easily adaptable to the whim of the owner or the prevailing fashion.

The next most important part of complexion care is the cleaning of the skin. Cosmetics, in order to be of assistance to the skin, must be removed with the greatest care at least once a day with a good cold cream or a cleansing lotion. To attempt to put a new make-up on skin which has not been thoroughly cleaned of the former one is to court disaster in the end. A simple rule, yet, strangely, often disregarded.

TONING MAKE-UP

The necessity for toning of the various elements in a make-up seems too clearly denoted to require mention, yet over and over again one sees an otherwise excellent effect ruined because powder and lipstick or rouge is not quite right in terms of the remainder of the ensemble. A perfect match in all parts of the toilette has a very subtle attractiveness; well carried out, the effect is pleasing without the reason being obvious. The various shades of mauve in make-up are still fashionable, though this matter is so intensely personal that it is better for every woman to rely on the advice of her own beauty expert rather than to indulge in departures unsuitable to her particular charms in the effort to follow fashion dictates.

Sunburn, too, can be a dangerous ally if not approached with care. After the recent hot spell, many complexions were on view which would have been better kept in cold storage for a few months until they will come again under some measure of control. The fact must be faced that those fortunate ones who can be sunburnt and still attractive are few, and the rest of us who care for our complexions can only be very moderate in our approaches to the pleasant rays.

CARE OF THE NAILS

Care of the nails is easy, and the results will repay any effort expended. Varnish foundation is a great help. It is a colourless liquid, which, applied to the nails, evens up cracks and ridges, gives protection against that abominable tendency to split, and provides an ideally even surface for those who intend to varnish. It is a good idea to apply the varnish foundation over as well as under the polish, as this helps to prolong the good appearance.

Nail varnishing is one of the most fascinating hobbies for women. It has existed from very early times, and has had its ups and downs in popular fancy. Up to the war varnishing was enjoying a period of great popularity, but nowadays not many women who attend to their own manicure have the time required for the application, which must be done with the greatest care to avoid the appearance which can mildly be described as grotesque. The shades at present in favour are "Whimsy," a very pale pink; "Hacienda," a deep mauve pink; "Burgundy," a dark red, not to be attempted unless you have very beautiful hands, and "Petal White," a glossy white varnish which looks very well when worn by young girls in the evenings.

PHŒBE.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

DEVIL'S FOOD

Ingredients.—Part I.—1 cup sugar, ½ cup milk, 4 ozs. chocolate, 1 egg yolk and 1 teaspoonful Vanilla essence. Part II.—½ cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 whole eggs, 2 cups plain flour, 2 level teaspoonfuls baking powder and ½ cup milk. Two sandwich tins, 8 inches diameter, 1½-2 inches deep. To prepare Part I. place the sugar, milk and chocolate in a saucepan and heat until the chocolate has melted. Cool slightly, then add the yolk of egg and cook slowly until the mixture is thick enough to coat the back of the spoon. Cool and add the Vanilla essence. To prepare Part II. beat the butter and sugar to a cream, add the eggs, one at a time, and beat well. Add the flour and baking powder (sifted together) alternately with the milk. Mix well with Part I. and turn the mixture into the sandwich tins, which should be greased and lined with paper. When the sandwiches are cold spread a layer of chocolate butter frosting between them and all over the cake. Sprinkle grated or cup chocolate over the sides. This is a very rich moist chocolate cake and will keep well. Chocolate Butter Frosting:—1 cup unsalted butter, yolk of 1 egg, 2½ cups icing sugar, 1 oz. grated chocolate, 1 teaspoonful Vanilla essence, and 1 teaspoonful coffee essence. Wash the butter in cold water, then squeeze dry in a cloth. Beat the butter to a cream, add yolk of egg, and beat well, gradually adding the sugar. Melt the chocolate over hot water and add with the Vanilla and coffee essence.

'RIGHT-RAISING' the secret of GOOD HOME BAKING!

Experts will tell you, the secret of successful baking is right-raising—using the exact amount of "raising" each recipe requires—and also that it always pays to use the best ingredients.

Royal Baking Powder ensures, by its special ingredients and blending, a fine even texture, which overcomes the most common cause of baking failures—faulty raising. Cakes, puddings, and pastries become light, wholesome and appetising.

Next time you bake use plain flour and "Royal"—it protects your other ingredients and safeguards you against costly failures.

Success certain with plain flour and ROYAL

USEFUL BAKING HINTS

1 "ROYAL" REPLACES EGGS. In cakes calling for more than two eggs, fewer eggs may be used by substituting 1 teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder for each egg omitted. Add 2 tablespoonfuls of liquid (water or milk) for each egg omitted.

2 SAVE MONEY WHEN BUYING "ROYAL." Royal Baking Powder keeps indefinitely. So why not buy in 8 or 16 ozs. tins? It's cheaper, too!

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

EXECUTION OF INDENTURE ISSUE

ACTION AGAINST PRIEST

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE BLACK.)

Mrs. Margaret Mary Quillinan, Irishtown, Clonmel, brought an action against the Rev. Michael Morrissey, of Clogheen, Co. Tipperary, claiming the execution, under the direction of the Court, of an indenture dated November 7, 1925, under which she was a beneficiary, and of which the defendant was trustee.

Mr. Hewitt Poole (instructed by Mr. Arthur Kenny), for Mrs. Quillinan, read her affidavit, stating that she was the widow of John Quillinan, late of Davis street, Tipperary, to whom she was married on January 12, 1926, and who had carried on business as a draper. In 1925 John Quillinan, then a widower, had assigned his business premises, stock-in-trade and furniture to Father Morrissey, on trust, to pay his daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Morrissey, £400 per year, and if he should marry again, and die, to pay his widow the sum of £1,000. He died intestate on September 22, 1936, and plaintiff had not been paid the £1,000 by the defendant, who gave as his reason the existence of arrears at the time of John Quillinan's death in the annual sum of £400, payable to Mrs. Morrissey, who was a sister-in-law of defendant. Mrs. Morrissey, she said, had carried on the business since John Quillinan's death.

Father Morrissey, in an affidavit, stated that after the execution of the indenture the late John Quillinan remained in possession of the house and premises at Davis street, Tipperary, and carried on the business as before. He (Father Morrissey) had no control of it. Mrs. Morrissey informed him that, although certain sums were paid to her by her father, she did not receive any regular payment, and the sums paid to her did not amount to anything like £400 per year. He had no funds to pay the charges provided for in the indenture, and asked that the rights of the parties under the indenture be determined by the Court, and that the trusts might be carried out under the direction of the Court.

Mr. Justice Black made an order directing that the trusts be carried out under the direction of the Court, and for the usual account and inquiry.

Mr. John L. Esmonde (instructed by Messrs. James F. D'Arcy and Co.) appeared for Father Morrissey.

SEQUEL TO ROAD ACCIDENT

WOMAN MOTORIST'S APPEAL DISMISSED

The Court dismissed with costs the appeal of Miss Sheila O'Connor, Carlanstown, Ceanannus Mor, from the verdict of a jury and judgment for £600 in favour of Patrick Dalton, builder's foreman, Nephin road, Cabra, Dublin, in his action against her for damages for injuries suffered when his bicycle and Miss O'Connor's motor car were involved in a collision at Cabra on March 18, 1939.

The jury had found that both Miss O'Connor and Mr. Dalton had been negligent, but that Miss O'Connor by the exercise of reasonable care could have avoided the accident, and it was submitted on her behalf that there was not sufficient evidence to support that finding.

The Chief Justice said that he could not say that he was entirely free from doubt in the case, but he did not think that the finding of the jury should be upset.

The other judges agreed that the finding should not be disturbed.

Mr. J. M. FitzGerald, K.C., Mr. Brereton Barry, K.C., and Mr. W. L. Sainsbury (instructed by Messrs. J. J. McDonald and Co.) appeared for Miss O'Connor; and Mr. Vincent Rice, K.C., Mr. J. A. Costello, K.C., and Mr. Felix Sherry (instructed by Messrs. Marcus A. Lynch) for Mr. Dalton.

BICYCLE AND MOTOR CAR IN COLLISION

SHIP INSPECTOR'S ACTION

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE MARTIN MAGUIRE AND A JURY.)

Joseph O'Shaughnessy, ship inspector, Shandon Park, Phibsborough, Dublin, claimed damages against Edward Lawlor, Kildoon, Nurney, Co. Kildare, for injuries suffered when his bicycle and Mr. Lawlor's motor car came into collision near the junction of Blessington street and Mountjoy street, Dublin, on the morning of November 5, 1939.

The defence was a denial of negligence and a plea of contributory negligence.

Mr. Cawley, K.C., Mr. P. J. McEnery, K.C., and Mr. J. G. Bruce Mathieson (instructed by Mr. M. J. Fitzmaurice) appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Lavery, K.C., Mr. Kingsmill Moore, K.C., and Mr. Felix Sherry (instructed by Messrs. Hoey and Denning) for the defendant.

The hearing had not concluded when the Court adjourned until next Monday.

The Last Round

Unusual reticence is being maintained regarding the progress of the peace negotiations between France and Germany. Since Marshal Pétain requested the Germans to state their terms for an armistice the Spanish Government has been acting as an intermediary, and there has been much activity behind the diplomatic scenes; but, although Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini agreed on Tuesday on the terms that were to be presented to the French Government, no authoritative statement as to their details yet has been made. Yesterday it was announced that four French plenipotentiaries had been appointed to meet the Germans, that a meeting had been held at some unspecified rendezvous, that the French representatives were on their way back to Bordeaux, which, according to unconfirmed reports last night, already has been evacuated by the French Government. The French plenipotentiaries comprised a civilian, who had been Ambassador to Poland; a military officer of high rank, a Vice-Admiral, and a General of the Air Force. It seems that, contrary to earlier expectations, the French delegation met only Germans. The Italian Government was not represented directly; but, according to German reports, Italy's interests were left "in good hands." In other words, Herr Hitler, and he alone, proposes to dictate terms to France. The personnel of the French delegation has caused some uneasiness in British circles; for the quartet includes a Vice-Admiral and a full General of the Air Force. What is happening, or has happened, to the French Navy and the French Air Force? At the moment nobody seems to be in a position to answer this question. It is almost incredible that the French Government should treat with the Germans regarding the future of France's Fleet; it is equally incredible that the Germans should agree to any terms which did not include either the surrender or the complete immobilisation of the French Navy. The French naval units in the Mediterranean were under the supreme command of a British Admiral when Marshal Pétain decided to sue for peace. Is it possible that the British Admiralty has allowed these French ships to be exposed to the risk of seizure by the Germans? Mutatis mutandis, the same considerations apply to the French Air Force. Manifestly, the Germans will demand the unconditional surrender of as many French aeroplanes as they can lay their hands on; but on Wednesday it was reported that the French Air Force was flying its machines to North Africa, in which event Germany's demands will be in vain. Everybody agrees that Germany's peace terms will be severe. The Berlin Nachtausgabe declares that "the hour for compassion is past"; and all the German newspapers agree that Europe must be preserved "for all time" from French Chauvinism. Before these lines appear in print the world may know the fate to which Herr Hitler has condemned the French Republic. However hard it may be, and however defiantly individual French commanders may decide to fight on against the Germans, there no longer can be much doubt that Marshal Pétain must be prepared to bow to the will of the German conqueror.

In the meantime the people of Great Britain are steeling themselves to meet the blows which, they believe, are sure to fall upon them. During the last forty-eight hours there have been numerous air raids on England. The German Air Force, according to the Berlin Press, has begun to "wreak its vengeance" on Great Britain; and, although the damage that has been done hitherto is relatively unimportant, it would be foolish to underestimate the offensive power of the German bombers. Can the British nation hold out against German air raids, and a possible invasion from the sea, for a sufficient length of time to enable the United States to deliver the material aid which has been promised by President Roosevelt? Manifestly, Mr. Roosevelt is determined to carry out his pledges to the limit of his power. He has done something unique in American politics, inasmuch as on the very eve of a Presidential election he has nominated two prominent Republicans as Secretary for War and Secretary for the Navy. This step seems to foreshadow a Coalition Government in the United States, and, if it should succeed, it would strengthen President Roosevelt's hand enormously. Whatever may happen in Washington the issue of the European war will depend on the result of the race between Germany's offensive powers against Great Britain and the productive power of the United States in respect of war materials. The British have decided to fight on without a single ally on the Continent of Europe. Their island is a besieged fortress, vulnerable in many ways to attack from the air, but protected by the most powerful navy in the world. If the Germans can contrive to capture the French fleet in whole, or even in part, Great Britain's defensive task will become far more difficult; for possession of the French fleet would simplify Germany's plans for an invasion of England. On the other hand, the British Air Force, although inferior in material strength to that of the Germans, already has proved its worth, and may be trusted to give a good account of itself in attack as well as in defence. Only twenty miles of salt water lie between Calais and Dover; but, so long as the British Navy remains intact, the crossing of that short stretch of sea will present a knotty problem to Germany's High Command. Nobody doubts that an invasion of Britain is possible; but the cost to the invader would be terrific. Will the game be worth the candle? Only Herr Hitler can answer this question. So long as Great Britain remains intact, and can keep the seas open by means of her navy, Germany cannot achieve the "total" victory on which Herr Hitler has set his heart. France was crushed mainly because her magnificent army had no adequate defences against the German tanks. Can Herr Hitler land his tanks in England? Can his Air Force terrify the civil population to such an extent as to force the British Government to capitulate, as the French Government was forced to capitulate? Will America's help be sufficient to redress the balance of power in the air; and will it be in time? On the answers to these questions the issue of the war will depend.

Spain's Task

The first of April last, when more than half the countries in Europe were at war, tearing at one another's throats, was observed in Spain as a day of celebration. It was the first anniversary of the ending of the Spanish civil war. While bombs burst and shells screamed in the air of France, Germany and Norway, while Great Britain was rushing heavily armed troops across the sea, while Italy was trembling on the brink of war, while Holland and Belgium were hurrying to defend themselves against impending invasion, there were banners floating in the sunny streets of Madrid. Army, Navy and Air Force detachments paraded before General Franco and his chief men, and great crowds listened to his plans for a new Spain. General Franco had deemed wisely that three years of combat were enough for the Spanish people. They would be asked to fight no more. Whatever "ideological" sympathies he might have with his friends in Berlin and Rome, he realised that the health and security of his own country must come first. His first task was to rebuild the stricken nation, and if that task consisted of nothing more than the restoration of battered towns, the rebuilding of roads, the renewal of railways, and the relief of inevitable distress among the people, it would be imposing enough. The General, however, has committed himself to more ambitious programmes. Ten years, he said, will be necessary to rebuild Spain, but he intends to rebuild more than the mere stones which fell in the collapse of his country. A whole new edifice will be created. New social legislation already is taking shape for a better education of the masses; there are hints of the break-up and distribution of the great estates; and new plans have been announced now to stimulate production in both agriculture and industry. The Ten Years Plan is beginning well. Efforts will be made to raise the standard of living of the workers—that thorn in the flesh of all Spanish governments; new irrigation schemes will transform over a million acres of barren ground into fertile soil; huge afforestation schemes will be begun in the spring of next year; wheat, vegetables, fruit and cotton are to be grown for the export market; and chemical factories and steel foundries will be built to take advantage of the country's great mineral resources. An attempt will be made to adjust the sorely adverse balance of trade, and if the General has his way he will provide Spain with a measure of economic independence which it has not experienced before in its history. As he says, however, Spain, to achieve greatness, must be a united Spain. Will General Franco be able to achieve the unity that he requires? On the answer to that question hangs the success or failure of his schemes. As we in Ireland know, the effects of such a conflict linger for many years in the form of mutual bitterness and mistrust. The anodyne that General Franco offers is hard work, which, according to the Labour Statute, is "a social duty admitting of no excuse"; and what appears to be a general amnesty has been declared. The General seems prepared to bury the hatchet, and if his invitation is genuine, he has chosen the only course by which his country will find that measure of peace and prosperity which it so badly needs.

Back to Our Muttons

It is reported that the British authorities, who keep a wary eye on the Colorado Beetle and the Warble Fly, and can say "Sheep scab!" with all the vehement indignation of a trades unionist denouncing a strike-breaker, are now endeavouring to do for the four-footed sheep what the Safety First Association seeks to do for the biped variety—save their lives. In short, they are evacuating hundreds of thousands of sheep from the more dangerous and vulnerable areas in England and parking them in safer feeding grounds in much the same way as a certain type of motorist would like to see the pedestrians removed from the roads. While the rest of the woolies can hoof it to their new destination the ewes and their offspring journey in state by motor, and we are told that the greatest problem with which the removers are confronted is that of ensuring that no maternal sheep finds herself confronted with a complete stranger instead of her own little baa-baa on arrival at the new home. To the undiscerning human eye one lamb is indistinguishable from another as a general rule, but the fond parent appears to be able to discover hidden beauties in her own progeny, and refuses to accept imitations with all the vigour of a shopper obeying the slogan in the advertisements. Furthermore, ewes are apt to raise Cain—so far as a sheep can perform the feat—if separated from the little ones while they still need her care and the thought of several hundred hundred maternal muttons loudly and unceasingly lamenting their bereavement makes the stoutest shepherder quail. Sheep dogs, despite their amazing intelligence, as demonstrated annually at the Spring Show, cannot be expected to appreciate the delicate nuances of the situation. Possibly they regard sheep as just varying degrees of unmitigated nuisance and think that a mother's heart should be content so long as it is presented with anything in the shape of a lamb. They never pause to ask how they would like it themselves if treated in such a cavalier manner. We would suggest that a great deal of trouble could be avoided—as well as the cost of transport—if a few veteran sheep from the Curragh Camp were exported to England to act as N.C.O.s among the battalions of less enlightened English sheep. The Curragh Camp veterans have been long famous for their understanding of military tactics and strategy, and it is said that they even can tell the difference between a company of recruits using blank cartridges and a detachment of seasoned soldiers entrusted with live ammunition for a field day. In the latter case their skill in taking cover is equalled only by their open contempt for the harmless volleys of the rookies. A sprinkling of such sapient animals inured by tradition and personal experience to the alarums and excursions of a great military camp should prove invaluable among the vast English flocks just now—unless they have any political prejudices.

The White Line

Our London correspondent has stated that the cost of painting the white traffic lines on the London streets has become a serious problem. That, of course, is because road-users in that city take the white lines very seriously; if road-users in this country adopted the same attitude towards them the cost of the necessary white paint would bankrupt the State. The one great advantage of our present attitude is its economy. White lines on our roadways are nearly as scarce as white blackbirds—and just about as useful. It would be interesting to know who decides where they are to be painted, and when they are to be painted. We do not credit the report that the painters are demobilised members of the forces responsible for painting slogans on the roads in bygone times of political stress, and that the fact that their hearts are not in their new job accounts for the sporadic nature of their work. There are so many individuals and institutions in Ireland in urgent need of white-washing, according to patriotic cynics, that the old slogan painters are now drawing big money for wielding the whitewash brush for that purpose. Whatever the cause, it must be admitted that a good deal of the happy-go-lucky spirit that characterised our whitening of kerbstones and road islands during our brief attempt at a black-out last September, still persists in connection with the white lines. Even the oblongs which are supposed to mark 'bus stops are of a fragmentary and evanescent nature, calculated to lure unwary motorists into trouble. The bright side of the picture, as we have suggested already, is its economy; more white lines in Dublin would send the rates soaring even higher than they are at present. In one large borough in London, where there are 240 miles of streets, the unfortunate ratepayers have conducted investigations on their own hook, ignoring the Borough Council, and they still are reeling from the shock of their discoveries. They found that it takes a hundred painters a day to mark the lines on five miles of street, and that the cost of labour and material for providing the entire borough with the white line of a blameless life amounts to about £20,000 a year! Little wonder that the twenty-eight London boroughs are asking the Ministry of Transport to arrange a more permanent method of marking, such as white asphalt lines, steel studs or bright rubber blocks. In Dublin the steel studs have been tried in tentative fashion here and there to mark crossings, and more recently white blocks have been set in the roadway at a few points for the same purpose. Surely it is time, in the interests of road safety, that a definite decision was come to as to the method to be universally used, and that it should be cheap enough to provide no further excuse for delay.

FROM "THE TIMES"

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT.)

THE GERMAN DREAM

In a leading article to-day, The Times says:—A Europe united by conquest has been, throughout history, the vision of a succession of military rulers. The locust-like rapidity with which German Armies have spread themselves over large tracts of the Continent, has had the not surprising, though premature, result of resuscitating this ambition. The inspired publicists of the German and Fascist Press have been canvassing the prospects of a new European order, by which they mean a Europe carved up under German and Italian rule, and Signor Gayda has foreshadowed an intention of the Axis Powers to proclaim their own Munroe Doctrine for Europe. The prospects spread before our view is no longer a temporary occupation of Western Europe for the purpose of bringing a recalcitrant Britain to heel, but the grandiose plan of a new Europe in which the Imperial obsessions of Rome combine with the megalomania of Berlin.

Stated thus crudely, the proposition quickly betrays its inherent absurdity.

A heavy hand and a ruthless suppression of resistance are Germany's only weapons, continues The Times, and these are not weapons by which proud and highly civilised nations can be organised and governed. For the moment opposition may be crushed. But the first sign of military reverses, or the widespread economic distress which the occupation is doomed to create would reveal the hollowness of Germany's control, and the colossal nature of the task she has taken on herself. Seventy-five million Germans, even assuming that they were solid in their loyalty to the Nazi cause, cannot permanently hold down a population of ninety millions united in their hatred of the German yoke. Administratively, a German run and German-ridden Europe is not merely a nightmare; it is a tour de force, which Napoleon could not maintain, which Germany cannot maintain, which no one European race could hope to maintain. So long as sea power is denied to the controller of the Continent, the lesson of Napoleon's continental blockade is still doubly valid. Given sea power, the rest of the world can blockade Hitler, however far his armies may roam over Europe; but Europe cannot indefinitely dispense with the rest of the world.

25 YEARS AGO

From the Irish Times, 21st June, 1915.

The War in Galicia.

Reports of the fighting in Galicia are again contradictory. The Austrians, in their official report, claimed to have occupied Grodek, but Petrograd states that, though the enemies' advance guards tried to force their way through to the Grodek lakes, they were repulsed with heavy losses. According to an unofficial report from Amsterdam, the Russian works in this region are very strong and well fortified.

In an attempt to accelerate a conclusion to the fighting on their Eastern Front, the Germans have increased their force in Galicia by 47 regiments of infantry, of which 23 regiments, including the Prussian Guards, have come from the Western Front, while 24 regiments are fresh troops who have just completed their training. The total number of new forces is 141,000.

Pope's Relatives Fighting.

Two nephews of the Pope are serving with the Italian field army, as Captain and Lieutenant of the cavalry, states a correspondent in Rome. The husband of the Pope's niece is also in the cavalry, and the Pope's brother, who is a retired Admiral, holds himself in readiness to rejoin for active service.

LONDON LETTER

SECRET SESSIONS

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
THURSDAY NIGHT.

THE House of Lords and the House of Commons both went into secret sessions this afternoon to debate home defence. There was a big attendance in both Houses before the sittings became private, and it was apparent that many Service men were present. Before the sitting commenced in the House of Commons, Mr. Attlee (Lord Privy Seal) said that he thought it would be undesirable to continue the secret debate to-morrow, but, if the House desired another day in secret, it would always be possible to arrange it. Mr. Attlee also announced that on Thursday next there would be a debate on the Ministry of Supply, and he agreed that if the House then thought it desirable to go into secret session it could do so.

Limitation of Luxury Goods

A special department has been set up by the British Board of Trade to deal with the registration of some seventy thousand firms engaged in trades connected with luxury goods, the consumption of which is to be limited. The annual turn-over of the registered firms is about £25,000,000, and it is intended that the consumption of the goods included in the list shall be reduced by one-third. Since the register consists of manufacturers and wholesalers engaged in several hundred different trades, it is necessary to have particulars of their activities in order that there may be an even distribution of the goods. To-day was the last day for registration. A scheme for rationing the commodities affected will be completed within the next few days.

Women in Banks

Women are undertaking work in the banking offices in ever-growing numbers, being ready to undertake any job after a few days' practice. Mechanisation in the banks during the past ten years has meant a steady increase in the number of women workers; now there are 2,300 women members in the Bank Officers' Guild, which has a total membership of nearly eighteen thousand out of the sixty thousand bank clerks in England and Wales. In addition, numbers of boys are being taken on to fill temporary posts, and many retired men are returning to take the place of the men called up for service.

Insects at the "Zoo"

At the beginning of the war the insect house at the London Zoological Gardens was one of those who had to be closed. Mr. L. C. Bushby, the Curator, had to see all his minute charges, including poisonous spiders and scorpions, destroyed. When the spring came round, and it was seen that large numbers of people continued to visit the "Zoo," Mr. Bushby decided to re-open the insect house, to run it single-handed, and to do without the help of keepers, even in cleaning. His offer was accepted, and he began to search the woods and the countryside around London for new specimens. He said to-day that he had to start almost at scratch, but, having got the house cleaned up, he went out in search of insects, and has been able to gather together quite an interesting collection of specimens, including pond insects, hawk moths, tiger beetles.

"Salvage Flying Squad"

Successful results have been obtained already from a "salvage flying squad," composed of specially adapted railway vans, which is touring 100 stations in the London area, to collect war-time salvage. The L.M.S. have collected in London by this and other means nearly 100 tons of salvage, including scrap metal, waste paper, old rope, straw and timber, which have been found mostly in small quantities at goods and passenger stations. Three salvage collecting vans are operating in the London area on circuits ranging from three to six days each. The vans are taken from one station to another by ordinary trains so that the expense of collection is negligible. All the scrap and waste material collected in these vans is taken to a central dépôt in North London, where it is sorted first, and then disposed of to the best advantage.

IRISHMAN'S DIARY

Secret Sessions

Although secret sessions of Parliament in Great Britain arouse considerable comment, both Houses—Peers and Commons—theoretically meet in private, because it is still contrary to the Standing Orders of the Houses that "strangers" should be present. Even the publication of reports of Parliamentary proceedings is a technical breach of privilege—a breach which is ignored, since the Standing Orders relating to "strangers" are not enforced except—as happened yesterday—the Houses are to discuss some matters which, in the public interest, should not be disclosed.

When a secret session is to be held, it is necessary that the motion for the exclusion of "strangers" should be passed without amendment or debate, and the power to order their withdrawal is restricted to the Speaker.

Technically, ladies are not "strangers." Nevertheless, they are not allowed within the precincts of Parliament during secret session.

Dail Differences

While I am on the subject of Parliaments, there is an interesting difference between formalities at Westminster and in Leinster House.

In both the House of Lords and House of Commons the public galleries are not opened until after prayers; in both the Dail and Senate the galleries are opened before prayers. In the Dail it is the Speaker who recites the prayer—in Irish and English—while in the Senate it is the duty of the Clerk of the House.

The hiding of ladies in a gallery behind a grating above the Press Gallery is another Westminster feature which has not been adopted in this country, and women have equal rights with men to be present in the public galleries of both Houses.

The New Force

I presume that further information will be forthcoming before long on the subject of the new Local Security Guards.

Many people—including certain members to whom I have spoken—are anxious to know whether this new force actually forms part of the Defence Forces. They have observed that, whereas members of the Oireachtas are forbidden to join the Defence Forces, there seems to be no ban on their enlistment in the Local Security Guards. In fact, many members of the Dail and Senate have enlisted there already.

Why, by the way, are our legislators forbidden to join the Army? Does the same ban exist elsewhere? It certainly does not exist in the majority of countries that come readily to mind—countries where many uniforms brighten the somewhat drab appearance of the legislative Chambers.

Ninette de Valois

I hear that Ninette de Valois is to devise a new ballet, based upon her experiences during the invasion of Holland. She had only just arrived on tour at The Hague when the country was invaded; so that, instead of presenting her ballet programme, she was obliged to arrange for her first-line defence and the retreat of her dancers. While the invasion was at its height this courageous dancer was observed marshalling her company through parachutist activities and raiding bombers.

Robert Helpman, one of her principal dancers, arranged a free programme in a cellar at Amsterdam, I hear, where he staged "Miss Hook of Holland," in order to cheer up his comrades and any "balletomanes" among the citizens who could forget the stress of invasion for the time being.

Eventually Ninette got her dancers safely back to London, and, no doubt, her new ballet should rival both "Job" and "Checkmate," her other successful works.

Garibaldi and England

When Mr. Duff Cooper referred to Garibaldi in his broadcast address of a week or two ago, he had in mind a visit paid to Tyneside by the Italian lover of liberty in 1854.

He was on his way home from America, and his ship had anchored in the Tyne. A deputation, headed by Joseph Cowen, went to the ship and presented an address of welcome, a Newcastle-made telescope, and other gifts.

On leaving the Tyne Garibaldi sent a letter which would hardly be appreciated in Italy to-day.

"England," he wrote, "is a great and powerful nation, foremost in human progress, enemy to despotism, the only safe refuge for the exile in Europe, friend of the oppressed; but if ever England should be so circumstanced as to require the help of an ally, cursed be that Italian who would not step forward with me in her defence."

City Life

Two motorists had halted many times between Belfast and Dublin. It seemed that the journey never would end.

"Are we getting near Dublin yet?" asked one.

"We must be," said the other

"Why's that?"

"We're knocking down more people."

"For goodness sake!" exclaimed the first. "Drive a bit slower."

"What are you talking about?" replied the other. "You're driving."

TERMS TO BE GIVEN AT COMPIEGNE TO-DAY

FRENCH ENVOYS HAVE MET GERMANS

Marshal Petain on Causes of Defeat

BORDEAUX DECLARED AN OPEN TOWN

ARMISTICE terms may be transmitted to the French at Compiegne to-day. This was the view current in Berlin last night, says an Associated Press message.

It was at Compiegne that the 1918 armistice was signed.

France yesterday sent four plenipotentiaries to a secret meeting-place with the Germans to hear Herr Hitler's terms.

A Rome radio report yesterday said that the four Envoys were already on their way back to Bordeaux.

Marshal Petain's envoys are General Huntziger, M. Leon Noel, former French Ambassador to Poland; Vice-Admiral Leluc and General Bergeret, of the Air Force, according to the German News Agency.

The German radio stated yesterday that the French still fought on, adding: "The members of the French Government are not all agreed on the question of laying down arms."

"TOO FEW ——"

While four French armies fought on, French air and naval forces hit hard at the Italians, German forces occupied Lyons, second city of France, and Marshal Petain, French Premier, broadcast as the "cause of our defeat"—too few children, two few arms, too few Allies.

The Marshal said that the military situation imposed the necessity of asking the Germans to "put an end to hostilities."

A French Council of Ministers lasted an hour and a half yesterday.

German radio and Press comments continue to suggest that the German terms will be extremely severe—little short of utter capitulation, but the Italian newspaper "Giornale d'Italia" hints that the terms may be "less harsh" than Versailles, though a chief point would be the fulfilment of Italian colonial demands.

REQUEST TO ITALY

A Rome report to the Official German News Agency states that the French Government have asked the Italian, as well as the German, Government to inform them of the conditions for an armistice.

Marshal Petain informed the Mayor of Bordeaux yesterday that the Government had decided to leave at 3 p.m. to avoid useless destruction of the city, and that it may be considered an open city.

The Archbishop of Bordeaux, broadcasting over the French Government radio last night, urged the people of France to "unite in hard work for the creation of a new social order." Declaring that he came in the name of all the clergy to counsel courage and confidence, he concluded by stating that, in spite of everything, out of the present trials would emerge a new and glorious France.

LYONS OCCUPIED

BERLIN, Thursday.

Discussing the question of a settlement with France, the Natchausgabe writes:—

"The hour for compassion is past in Europe. France had seven years to consider the Fuehrer's many offers for a complete understanding with her. During those seven years the German people received no pity from France.

"A peace that will preserve Europe for all time from the danger of French Chauvinism is what Germany now wants."

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declares bluntly:—"France has no claim to pity."—(P.A. War Special.)

"WILL FORCE ENEMY TO KNEES"

"The French talk about the conditions on which they will lay down arms," stated the announcer on the official German wireless last night. "We do not know these conditions nor the attitude of the Fuehrer and the Duce towards them. One thing, however, we know—the German arms will force the enemy to his knees.

"If Germany is grimly and mercilessly striving to attain her aim of smashing the enemy, it has nothing to do with revenge. The German nation is not looking back, but is only thinking of its future.

"The long series of French attempts to hamper the national development of the Reich will be ended for ever.

"Brutal destruction of the German nation was the declared aim of the British and French plutocrats, and we have, therefore, no reason for being sentimental. Germany has no reason for showing any mercy."—(P.A. War Special.)

FRENCH OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE

BORDEAUX, Thursday.

To-night's official war communiqué states:

"During the day there was no special change in the situation generally.

"The enemy pushed reconnaissance detachments south of Nantes and west of Bourges towards Montlucon and Vichy, to the south of Lyons and in the direction of Nantue."

FRANCE URGED TO FIGHT ON

TELEGRAM FROM COLONY IN EGYPT

CAIRO, Thursday.

A telegram urging France to continue the struggle for liberty alongside the Allies until victory is achieved, has been sent by the French Colony here to President Lebrun, General Weygand, General Mittelhauser, Commander-in-Chief of the French Forces in Syria; General Nogues, Commander in North Africa; M. Peyrouton, French Resident-General at Tunis, and General Gentilhomme, French Commander at Djibuti.

"To give up at a moment like this would be an impossibility—a French impossibility," says the telegram.

Signed by the Presidents of all the French organisations in Cairo, it also offers to place all the services and property of the members of the French Colony in Cairo at the disposal of France.

A similar telegram from the French Colony in Belgrade was circulated yesterday.—(P.A. War Special.)

ALGERIAN GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S APPEAL

ASSURANCE TO MARSHAL PETAIN

BORDEAUX, Thursday.

The Governor-General of Algeria has issued an appeal to the people of Algeria, pointing out that the French Government, in order to save the fatherland still more sanguinary and cruel trials, has been forced to enter into negotiations with the enemy, says the Havas Agency.

The Governor-General assures Marshal Pétain of his resolve to continue to devote all the forces to the defence of the fatherland, and makes an appeal for complete unity, calm and unshakeable faith in the future of France.

The appeal concludes:—"Those who only give way to despair are not worthy of becoming masters of the future. But, as the French Minister of the Interior has said, France will live."—(P.A. War Special.)

ALL QUIET IN SYRIA

DAMASOUS, Thursday.

The situation in Syria remains completely calm. General Mittelhauser, Commander-in-Chief, Eastern Mediterranean, in a message to the inhabitants, says that he is determined to maintain order and repress any attempt to foment disorder with the utmost vigour.

THESE MEN TALK WITH GERMANS

CAREERS OF FRENCH DELEGATES

Here are details of France's plenipotentiaries in the armistice talks:—

M. Leon Noel was appointed French Ambassador to Poland in 1935. In October, 1938, after Munich, when the French Ambassador to Berlin (M. Francois-Poncet) became Ambassador to Rome, there was talk of M. Leon Noel for the Berlin post, but he remained in Warsaw. He has remained accredited to the Polish Government in France.

M. Leon Noel is 53 years old. His first important post was head of the Civil Cabinet at the Ministry of War in 1926, and the next year he was appointed general delegate on the French Rhineland Commission. After a short stage as one of the chiefs of the Surete Generale—the French Scotland Yard—he became Chef de Cabinet of M. Andre Tardieu, then Prime Minister, in 1932.

General Huntziger, aged 60, was at one time Commander-in-Chief in Syria. As the head of the French Military Mission to Turkey he negotiated the Military Pact with Turkey on behalf of France last summer. He afterwards came to London to report on the results of his mission. He is a member of the Supreme War Council.

Vice-Admiral Leluc (55) was Chief of Staff to Admiral Darlan, Commander-in-Chief of the French Navy, who is now Minister of the Navy.

General Bergeret, one of France's younger soldiers—he is only 45—has not been much in the public eye and is a specialist in air matters.

FRANCE-MOROCCO TELEGRAPH CUT

Telegraphic communication between Morocco and France has ceased according to the Morocco short wave Radio Station.—(Press Association War Special.)

POLISH GOVERNMENT "IN ENGLAND"

SAN SEBASTIAN (SPAIN), Thursday.

The Polish Government, which had been established at Angers, in France, for several months, has been transferred to England, it was stated by refugees who arrived here from France to-night.—(Associated Press.)

ALEXANDRIA, Thursday.

Telegrams poured into French naval and military headquarters in the Middle East from French Colonies the world over to-day urging the continuance of the fight.—(Associated Press).

AIR RAID HAVOC IN BORDEAUX

BORDEAUX, Thursday.

"Bordeaux, a town of 300,000 inhabitants, to which must be added 600,000 refugees, was bombarded in the German fashion without regard for women and old people," writes the Bordeaux newspaper, La France, to-day.

"This morning in numerous quarters of Bordeaux were to be seen dead and wounded and houses in ruins.

"One bomb fell on a shelter in a public square, and many shops were badly damaged.

"In another part of the town a hostel which houses 50 girls was hit. Several of the girls were injured.

"The population of Bordeaux remains calm."—(Press Association War Special).

FRENCH DESTROY ITALIAN SUBMARINE

BORDEAUX, Thursday.

French patrol boats have destroyed an Italian submarine, it was officially reported from Algiers to-day.

"French 'planes took part in scouting flights over Sicily, Sardinia and Tripoli," it was added.—(Associated Press).

MAGINOT LINE ENCIRCLED

PLIGHT OF FRENCH TROOPS

NEW YORK, Thursday.

According to military officials in Berlin, states the Columbia Broadcasting Company, the Nazis claim to have completed the encirclement of the Maginot Line sector, and are now breaking it up into smaller sections.

Surrounded, the French garrisons and troops, it is added, have no chance of escape, and "are faced with annihilation."

The German wireless last night announced: "At noon to-day our troops took Badenweiler, in Lorraine, where Bavarian troops fought in 1914, and after which the 'Badenweiler March' is named."

The march, Herr Hitler's favourite marching tune, was played after the announcement: —(P.A. War Special.)

FRENCH SOLDIERS INTERNED

BERNE, Thursday.

About 40,000 French soldiers belonging to various units have now crossed into Switzerland, it is estimated here. All these forces have been disarmed and interned. They continue to arrive.

During last night, it is officially stated, 28,000 soldiers crossed the frontier in the region of the Jura mountains. They consisted of 16,000 Poles and 12,000 French troops. With them they brought 8,000 horses. —(P.A. War Special.)

GERMANS PUSH TO SWISS FRONTIER

FORCES CONVERGING ACROSS FRANCE

BORDEAUX, Thursday.

A German advance up the Rhone to the Swiss frontier and a converging movement by German troops across the mountainous region of Central France from the east and the west were disclosed in a description of the military situation this morning given by the Havas Agency.

"The German troops" it was stated, "are now all along the Loire. They have made relatively little progress to the south of Nantes—some sixteen miles—with mechanised units.

"They are also along the Cher, a tributary of the Loire, and have entered the Gannat region—25 miles north of Clermont-Ferrand.

"The enemy, who occupied Lyons yesterday from the north and the east, was this morning nine miles south of the city. He was also in the region of Tarare—25 miles north-west of Lyons and some 60 miles south-east of Gannat in a straight line across the mountains but much farther round the Roanne.

"There are German troops along the Rhone valley as far as Bellegards—the last French town before the Swiss frontier.

"Our armies of Alsace and Lorraine, composed of troops from the Maginot Line, have taken part in violent fighting.

"The army of the Alps has not yet been attacked by the Italian troops."—(Press Association War Special.)

TURIN SUBURB DESTROYED

BUCHAREST, Thursday.

Travellers arriving here to-day from Italy state that the Allied air bombardment of Turin resulted in the destruction of an entire suburb of that town.

Five Italian officers, they add, were shot immediately because of the inefficiency of the Italian anti-aircraft defences.

15 ITALIAN 'PLANES DOWN

Battles over the Egyptian Coast

RAIDS IN MANY AREAS

PRESS ASSOCIATION WAR SPECIAL.

CAIRO, Thursday.

THE Italians have lost at least fifteen 'planes as a result of the activity of the R.A.F. and South African Air Force in the past twenty-four hours. Five more 'planes are probable losses. Over twelve Italian fighters were engaged in a fierce aerial dog-fight with R.A.F. bombers and fighters, off Buqbuq, Egypt, yesterday.

An official R.A.F. communiqué states that three Italian 'planes were shot down, while two others were seriously damaged and unlikely to reach their bases. The British lost one fighter in the engagement. Two of the Italians were seen to crash in the sea, and a third fell in flames on the land. Another Italian fighter later came down at Sollum, on the Egyptian coast, a few miles from the Libyan border. The pilot—a lieutenant-colonel—who was wounded, was taken prisoner.

Another Italian 'plane is understood to have been shot down in the Sollum area this morning. The crew succeeded in setting this machine on fire before they were taken prisoner.

A number of enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground during raids on Italian East Africa.

TWO 'PLANES DESTROYED

The official communiqué announces that bombers of the South Africa Air Force, escorted by fighters, made a successful attack on Lavella Aerodrome. They sighted nine enemy aircraft on the airfield, which they bombed and machine-gunned. Two of these 'planes were destroyed, while three others were extensively damaged. Enemy fighters took off to engage the British bombers, but one was immediately shot down and another forced down after a twenty minutes' fight. One of the British fighters failed to return from the raid.

Night operations over Eladem and Gubbi, in Eritrea, are also stated to have been highly successful. Six enemy machines were seen on fire after one bombing raid. An Italian three-engined bomber made a forced landing 150 miles east of Aden. The machine was intact, and the crew of five were taken prisoner.

ASSAB IN FLAMES

PRESS ASSOCIATION WAR SPECIAL.

ADEN, Thursday.

Visitors arriving here from Assab, Italian port and air base in Southern Eritrea, report that the aerodrome is burning as a result of British air raids, and the town is completely deserted. Another traveller from Hodeida stated that the glow from the fire was visible across the Red Sea, nearly sixty miles away. Many people, he added, have fled to Hodeida and Dhow from Massawa as a result of the British air raids.

ITALIAN BUILDINGS MARKED

ROME, Thursday.

A decree published here to-day provides that churches, museums, hospitals and historic monuments must be marked with a rectangle on a yellow background—the rectangle to be divided into two triangles, one black, the other white. The device must be clearly visible from the air.

This measure, presumably to safeguard the buildings during possible air raids, has been communicated to the British and French Governments.

LATE NEWS

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF WINDSOR IN BARCELONA

MADRID, Thursday.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have arrived at Barcelona.

They came from the South of France, and are staying at a hotel.

The Duke's Secretary said that they were staying at Barcelona until Saturday, when they were proceeding to Madrid, where "the Duke will communicate with his Government.—(Reuter and Associated Press).

THREAT TO FINLAND DENIED

MOSCOW, Friday.

Foreign reports that the Soviet had sent an ultimatum to Finland were stated here to-day to be devoid of foundation.—(Reuter.)

JOE LOUIS WINS

NEW YORK, Thursday.

In their fight for the heavy-weight championship of the world here to-night Joe Louis beat Arturo Godoy on a technical knock-out in the eighth round.

FIFTH FRENCH ENVOY NAMED

BORDEAUX, Thursday.

The name of General Parisot is contained in the list of French plenipotentaries issued here to-night by the Havas Agency.

ALARMS SOUNDED ON GIBRALTAR

LA LINEA (SPAIN), Thursday.

Air raid alarms were sounded twice to-day on Gibraltar, but no bombs were dropped.—(Associated Press.)

U.S. CABINET SHUFFLE

Seldom has President Roosevelt dropped a bigger political bombshell than by his announcement of his new Cabinet appointments.

Opponents of the Administration declare that his nominations mean the formation of a war party, and are a long step towards participation in the war.—(Reuter.)

MILITARY PRECAUTIONS IN TURKEY

ISTANBUL, Friday.

Turkey is hastily putting the finishing touches to her state of military preparedness. New measures are being taken as a precaution against repercussions in South-East Europe of the developments in France.

The military authorities in the Istanbul area are reported to have called up individually several classes of Reservists of all ranks. They are also stated to have requisitioned a large number of lorries, motor cycles and other motorised vehicles. These are intended for East Thrace.—P.A. War Special.)

WASHINGTON SURPRISE

UNITED STATES COALITION CABINET

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINLTON, Thursday.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is taking steps for the formation of a Coalition Cabinet. He submitted to the Senate to-day the nominations of Colonel Frank Knox as Secretary for the Navy and Mr. Stimson, U.S. Secretary of State in President Hoover's Government, as Secretary for War. Both are strongly pro-Allies.

The submission of the nominations was accompanied by a White House statement, saying that Mr. Woodring, the Secretary for War, had resigned, but that his letter of resignation was "so personal" that the usual custom of making public the text of such letters would not be followed in this case.

Colonel Knox succeeds Mr. Charles Edison, who has resigned to run for the Governorship of New Jersey.

PRO-ALLIES

Mr. Stimson is leader of the movement to give active aid to the Allies, says the Associated Press Correspondent, and, as Secretary of State under Mr. Hoover, he advocated a vigorous foreign policy in co-operation with Britain. He favoured intervention in China when Japan began operations against Manchuria. For many months he has been warning the United States of the danger of aggression, and the necessity of extending the country's fullest resources to Britain and France. He is 72 years of age.

Colonel Knox, proprietor of the Chicago Daily News, is a former isolationist, now strongly urging active aid for the Allies. His swing over is indicated by the fact that in 1936 he ran as Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency of the United States against Mr John ("Cactus Jack") Garner, the Democratic nominee.

He started his career as a reporter and later became general manager of the Hearst newspaper system. After purchasing the Chicago Daily News he became one of the keenest critics and most determined opponents of the Roosevelt Administration. Recently he has been prominent in advocating U.S. aid for the Allies.

A SURPRISE

The nominations are considered sensational, coming only four days before the Republican National Convention, which had hoped to organise a united front against President Roosevelt in the coming elections. This tended to confirm the impression in Washington circles that the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt is certain if he decides to run. Both Colonel Knox and Mr. Stimson are regarded as far in advance of American public opinion, however, which at present is still opposed to active intervention against Germany, though believing that America's own defences should be strengthened. Both candidates are champions of the Monroe Doctrine.

AID THE ALLIES—MR. CORDELL HULL

PRESS ASSOCIATION FOREIGN SPECIAL.

CAMBRIDGE (MASS.), Thursday.

Within a few hours of President Roosevelt's move to form a Coalition Cabinet his Secretary of State (Mr. Cordell Hull), speaking at Harvard University, said: "These are black days for the human race, for there are at work powerful forces, the significance of which no individual nation can ignore without falling into the gravest danger and utmost jeopardy.

CHALLENGE TO FREEDOM

"Never before has these forces flung so powerful a challenge to freedom and civilised progress; never before has there been more desperate need for men and nations who love freedom and cherish the tenets of modern civilisation to gather in an unconquerable defence force every element of their spiritual and material resources, every ounce of their moral and physical strength.

Mr. Cordell Hull said that United States history was not made by isolation from the rest of mankind. There was no more dangerous folly than thinking that its achievements can be preserved in isolation. Mass forces of lust for tyrannical power, said Mr. Hull, are to-day directed towards the very bases of the way of life which have come to be the cherished ideal of the majority of mankind. Nation after nation has been crushed into surrender, overrun and enslaved, and "its menacing shadow falls blacker and blacker on our continent, and the very instinct for self-preservation bid us beware. No more vital test ever confronted the American people than what is confronting it to-day. Our national independence, our cherished institutions are not immune from the challenge of the lust for power which already fills so much of the earth's surface.

COMMENT UNFAVOURABLE

Immediate Congressional reaction appeared unfavourable, says Reuter. Senator Taft, who, with Mr. Wendell Wilkie and Mr. Thomas Dewey, is a leading candidate for the Republican nomination, said: "I see no necessity for a Coalition Cabinet, and I do not regard this as a Coalition Cabinet."

Senator Clarke expressed the opinion that the appointments were "a prelude to put the United States into the war."

Senator Wheeler said that he believed that Colonel Knox and Mr. Stimson "would be glad to see this country go to the aid of the Allies to the extent of declaring war."

Mr. Stimson and Colonel Knox now "owe their allegiance to the President, and hereafter will speak and act in that capacity," said Mr. John Hamilton, the Republican National Chairman, to-night. Mr. Hamilton added that the desire of both Colonel Knox and Mr. Stimson "for American intervention in European affairs is so well known that their appointment speaks for itself."

"There is no question of a Coalition involved," said Mr. Herbert Hoover, former Republican President of the United States. He said that Mr. Stimson and Colonel Knox are entering the Cabinet "to give personal service, and are not representing the Republican Party."

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT FOR CANADA?

PRESS ASSOCIATION FOREIGN SPECIAL.

OTTAWA, Thursday.

It is reported in Parliamentary circles that Mr. MacKenzie King is forming a partial National Government to-morrow, when an enlargement of the Canadian Cabinet will be announced.

The Conservatives have been continually urging the need for this move. Mr. Grote Stirling, Conservative, who was Minister for National Defence 1934-35, is mentioned; also Mr. Tom Moore, President of the Trades and Labour Congress, who, though not an M.P., is expected to take the Labour Ministry. His appointment would be similar to that of Mr. Bevin by Mr. Churchill.

SCENE IN SENATE

The announcement of the nominations of Mr. Stimson and Colonel Knox produced scenes of excitement to-night on the floor of the Senate.

Senator Holt, of West Virginia, said that he had recently read in a newspaper that there was "pressure from London to get Mr. Woodring out of the Cabinet. It has succeeded," he shouted. "Did Lord Lothian (the British Ambassador) tell the President?"

Republicans generally expressed bitter condemnation of Mr. Stimson and Colonel Knox. —(Reuter.)

MISSION TO SPAIN

FROM OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

I understand that Dr. Walter Starkie, Professor of Spanish in the University of Dublin, has been appointed chief of a special British mission to Spain. He will leave Dublin almost immediately, and will be absent for about one year.

ARMED MERCHANT CRUISER SUNK

ENTIRE COMPANY SAVED

The following official British Admiralty communiqué was issued last night:—

"The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce that the armed merchant cruiser H.M.S. Andania (Captain D. K. Bain, R.N.) was torpedoed by a U boat and subsequently sank.

"Two members of the crew were injured. There were no other casualties, and the entire ship's company has been landed at a British port.

"H.M. trawler Juniper (Lieut-Commander G. S. Grenfell, R.N.), which was operating in Northern Norwegian waters, is now overdue, and must be considered lost. The next-of-kin have been informed that her crew are missing, but that it is possible that some of them may be prisoners of war."

Before the war the Andania, a vessel of 13,950 tons, was a Cunard-White Star liner, plying between London and New York. She was built in 1922 by Hawthorn, Leslie and Co., Ltd., Newcastle.

In December, 1937, just after landing her passengers at Tilbury, she was involved in a collision in a dense fog off Purfleet with the oil tanker British Statesman.

Captain Donald Keppel Bain served in destroyers during and after the last war. He graduated at the Staff College in 1930, and is an interpreter in Italian. From the command of the destroyer Valorous, of the Home Fleet, he went to the Operations Division of the Admiralty in 1936, and in January, 1938, was given command of H.M.S. Greyhound, in the First Destroyer Flotilla.

The trawler Juniper was one of the latest additions to the Fleet, being one of the twenty ordered under the estimates of July, 1939. She was probably between 540 and 590 tons.

LEAVE SHANGHAI!

NOTE TO EUROPEAN BELLIGERENT POWERS

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

TOKYO, Thursday.

Complete withdrawal of the armed forces of the European belligerent Powers from Shanghai is formally demanded by the Mayor of the Shanghai Special Municipality in a note addressed to the British, French and Italian Consuls-General, according to a Shanghai telegram received here.

HONOUR FOR IRISH SCHOLAR

Dr. A. W. Conway, President of University College, Dublin, who has just been elected a Fellow of Corpus Christi College, Oxford.

THE DUKE OF WINDSOR

RUMOUR DESCRIBED AS "RIDICULOUS"

It was authoritatively stated in London last night:—

"There is no truth in the ridiculous suggestion that an order has been made, or is contemplated, for the arrest of the Duke of Windsor. It is not a fact that he has already returned to England, but all possible steps are being taken for his safety and convenience."

Information regarding the Duke and Duchess of Windsor is awaited by their friends in London, who have not received any news of them for some time.

One of their friends, speaking to a Press Association reporter last night, ridiculed a rumour to the effect that the Duchess of Windsor was in Lisbon with the intention of flying to America, adding that "the Duchess detests flying."

IRISH BORDER REGULATIONS

Entering the North from Eire

QUESTIONS IN COMMONS

SEVERAL questions were asked by Northern Ireland members, in the House of Commons yesterday, on matters concerning travel between Eire and Northern Ireland, and between Northern Ireland and Great Britain.

ACROSS THE BORDER

Sir Hugh O'Neill (Con., Antrim) asked the Home Secretary what regulations were at present in force to check and control the entry into Northern Ireland of persons coming from Eire.

Sir John Anderson replied that he had been in consultation with the Government of Northern Ireland, and, in view of the difficulties of controlling entry over the land border they had decided to supplement the existing powers of the police for dealing with undesirable entrants by an order requiring all persons in Northern Ireland to be in possession of an identity document which must be produced to the police on demand.

NOTHING LEFT UNDONE

Sir Hugh O'Neill asked whether the imposition of conditions on the entry of persons into Northern Ireland—which was part of the United Kingdom—from Eire, which was a neutral State, was within the province of the British Government or the Government of Northern Ireland.

Sir John Anderson—Matters of internal security are the primary responsibility of the Government of Nogthern Ireland. There are certain responsibilities in regard to the control of entry into the United Kingdom which are the responsibilities of the Government of the United Kingdom. In all these matters I have been in the closest consultation with the Government of Northern Ireland, and I am not aware of anything left undone which, in the view of the Government of Northern Ireland, it was desirable to do in the interests of security.

STROLLING OVER

Mr. Cocks (Lab., Broxtowe)—Is the Minister aware that on a number of country roads people simply stroll across from Eire into Northern Ireland?

Sir John Anderson—Control of the land frontier does present special difficulties. The Government of Northern Ireland have been giving close study to the whole matter.

Mr. Lipson (Ind., Cheltenham) asked whether the identity card included a photograph of the holder.

Sir John Anderson replied that he could not say. It would not be proper for him to pursue a matter which came within the responsibility of the Government of Northern Ireland.

Mr. Buchanan (I.L.P., Gorbals)—Would not the present be an opportune time to make an approach for the abolition of this border altogether?

No reply was given.

CROSSING THE CHANNEL

Dr. Little (C., Down) asked the Home Secretary if, in view of the serious inconvenience caused by the restrictions imposed on travel between Great Britain and Northern Ireland, he would so modify these restrictions that people well affected to the State who can give a satisfactory reason for their travelling and members of His Majesty's Forces on leave would have all unnecessary hindrances removed to their journeying in either direction.

Sir John Anderson—I regret the inconvenience caused to the public by the restrictions which it has been necessary to impose on travel between Great Britain and Northern Ireland, but it is imperative that during the present emergency all forms of unnecessary travel shall be reduced as far as possible. No hindrances are placed in the way of persons who satisfy the permit authorities in Great Britain or Northern Ireland that it is necessary for them to travel in either direction on business of national importance, but it would not be in the public interest to allow unrestricted travel facilities between Great Britain and Northern Ireland for private reasons. The restrictions do not apply to members of His Majesty's Forces.

RETURNING HOME

Mr. Hicks (Lab., Woolwich, E.) asked whether those who had been to Great Britain to work in the building industry and had not been able to get back for nine months would be justified in asking permission to go.

Sir John Anderson—Certainly. Special consideration is always given to people wishing to return home.

Dr. Little asked if the Minister would make it easy for students who were struggling in Britain to cross for a holiday and return again.

Sir John Anderson—I am afraid that in the enforcement of a general regulation of this kind it is impossible to avoid cases of hardship, but every effort is being made to reduce these cases of hardship as far as possible.

COLD STORAGE

Dr. Little asked the Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Food if, as there is only cold-storage accommodation in Northern Ireland for 1,050 tons, which, under present conditions is wholly inadequate, he will provide additional cold-storage facilities, both in the interests of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Mr. Boothby replied that the cold-storage accommodation in Northern Ireland would hold much more than the quantity mentioned in the question. It was not in the public interest to state the true figure. As much additional cold-storage space as possible was being constructed at present, and his hon. friend's (Lord Woolton's) opinion was that it was better to construct it in Great Britain, where reserves were needed

WAR FACTORY WANTED

Dr. Little asked the Minister of Supply whether, as there are exceptional facilities and abundant labour in Northern Ireland to increase very considerably the production of munitions of war, he will give orders to have a war factory erected there, and meantime assign much more war work to that area, in order to provide employment for those who are anxious to do their utmost to assure victory to Britain and the Allies.

Mr. Macmillan, Parliamentary Secretary—The question of placing further orders in Northern Ireland is being pursued. I would be grateful if the hon. member repeats his question in a fortnight's time.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT PRACTICE

NIGHT FLYING OVER DUBLIN

The flight of aircraft over Dublin and other areas in the early hours of yesterday caused some alarm among people who were awakened by the noise. In order to ease the public mind in the matter, the Ministry of Defence informs us that air corps craft have been practising night flying in connection with anti-aircraft shooting.

Similar flights will be repeated to-night (Friday), and on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of next week, chiefly in the Counties of Dublin, Meath, and Louth.

BIGGEST AIR RAID ON BRITAIN

100 'Planes Bomb Wide Area

EIGHT PERSONS DEAD; 60 HURT

BRITAIN was more heavily bombed than the night before in Germany's biggest-yet raid on Wednesday night, in which eight civilians lost their lives and at least sixty were injured.

RESULTS OF THE RAID

More than a hundred German bombers flew over an area extending from the South coast, up the East coast to Scotland, the North-West of England and South Wales. Three of the raiders were shot down and a fourth was so disabled that it is unlikely that it got home.

Bombs caused damage in three towns on the North-East coast — where fires were brought under control—falling at scattered points in Lincolnshire, the South of England and in South Wales. Some of the alarms lasted five hours.

The Air Ministry stated that the first raider disabled was a Hienkel III. shortly before midnight near the mouth of the Tees.

No. 2 raider was picked up by searchlights near the Humber, and a fighter pilot made a successful head-on attack.

No. 3 fell to a fighter near Grimsby, and No. 4 was destroyed further south by a fighter squadron leader.

The three squadrons concerned had each had fighting experience over France.

CIVILIAN CASUALTIES

Those who lost their lives were:—North-East Area—An Air-raid Warden, John Punton (54), killed by a bomb splinter; Mrs. Wilkinson, wife of Mr. John Wilkinson, who was critically injured; Mrs. L. Parkinson, who died from heart failure, and Mrs. Annie Barton (51), wife of a road labourer, who collapsed on her way to a shelter.

North-West Area—Miss Beatrice Ramsbottom (21), and her mother, Mrs. Nancy Ramsbottom, aged 65.

South of England—An unidentified woman, who died from shock, and Mrs. Edith Fanny Davidson (53), widow, who collapsed in her shelter.

FIRST WARDEN KILLED

Mr. Punton was struck down by a bomb splinter while he was advising stragglers to get under cover. He is the first Warden to lose his life in an air-raid.

In this district five people were detained in hospital, and over 50 were treated at one first-aid post. Incendiary bombs penetrated roofs of houses in a working-class district of one North-East town. Damage was not extensive.

The bomb which killed Mrs. and Miss Ramsbottom was a direct hit on their house, which stands in a row. The house and two others were completely demolished, and when rescue squads cleared away the débris they found the two bodies and the father, Mr. Ephriam Ramsbottom, aged 66, who was taken to hospital for the amputation of a foot.

FIRST EXPERIENCE

South Wales was raided for the first time. Only slight damage was done, most of the bombs falling on waste ground, and there were no casualties.

The raiders dropped bombs in a rural area in South England, but there was only slight material damage to an inn and a few houses.

DAMAGE "NOT SERIOUS"

The Ministry of Home Security announced last night:—"Latest reports concerning last night's air raids confirm earlier information that the material damage caused was not serious.

"So far as can be ascertained, the casualties were eight dead and about 60 injured."

GERMAN CLAIMS

The German Radio claimed last night that German 'planes had bombed docks, harbours and arms factories in the Bristol and Southampton areas. Fires were said to have been started.

They also claimed to have damaged one cruiser and several merchantmen during the raids.—Associated Press.

The official German News Agency also reported that during Wednesday's raids German bombers "visited" L'Orient, La Rochelle and St. Nazaire.

It was claimed that ships totalling 23,000 tons had been hit by bombs in these harbours.

R.A.F. AGAIN OVER GERMANY

HEAVY BOMBING OF NUMEROUS AREAS

The British Air Ministry announced last night:—

"Large scale operations by Royal Air Force bombers continue nightly. Last night the objectives were munition factories, oil refineries, bridges, marshalling yards, ammunition trains and aerodromes.

"In spite of intense A.A. fire targets spread over a large area were attacked. These included Lunen, Hamm, Bielefeld, Munster, Duren, Schwerte Eiskirchen, Munchen-Gladbach, Hamborn, Emmerich, Hamburg, Brunsbuttel and Nordenay.

"One of our aircraft failed to return.

"On the way home one of our bombers engaged and seriously damaged an enemy seaplane.

FIRES IN AERODROMES

"Aircraft of the Fleet Air Arm, co-operating with Coastal Command, attacked military storehouses at Ijmuiden and Scheveningen and the aerodrome at Borkum. At all three objectives fires were started. A bridge at Texel was also hit.

"This morning a squadron of Hurricanes attacked a large number of German aircraft lined up on Rouen-Boos aerodrome.

"Four enemy aircraft were set on fire and many others were damaged by machine-gun fire.

"This afternoon a squadron of Blenheims visited the same aerodrome and caused further havoc.

"Both attacks were carried out without loss."

THE ATTACK AT ROUEN

Fuller details of the Hurricanes' attack on Rouen Aerodrome were given by the Air Ministry News Service last night:—

"Swooping down out of the sun," it was stated, "the Squadron of Hurricanes raked fifty German JU 52's (troop carriers) and JU 87's (dive bombers) with machine-gun fire. The 'planes were lined up on the aerodrome.

"The Hurricane pilots estimate that they damaged 20 of the aircraft, four of which were set on fire.

"Hurricane pilots were on a reconnaissance patrol over Northern France when they sighted the German machines parked in two long lines.

"British Fighters, diving in line astern, surprised the Germans, and carried out their machine-gun attack at low level.

"After firing thousands of bullets into the aircraft the Hurricanes escaped into the clouds."

Hertzog's Appeal to Smuts

PRESS ASSOCIATION FOREIGN SPECIAL.

JOHANNESBURG, Thursday.

"DISHONOURABLE" is the description applied by General Smuts, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, to a written proposal to him by General Hertzog, leader of the Opposition, that South Africa should "immediately take all the necessary measures to withdraw from the war."

General Smuts replies that he cannot be expected solely on General Hertzog's personal pressure to violate the decision of Parliament to continue the war.

General Hertzog yesterday protested against the "reckless risk to national freedom and the senseless sacrifice of Afrikander youth in a fruitless struggle." He demanded on behalf of the Afrikanders that "the Union immediately take all the necessary measures to withdraw from the war," and said that a peaceful, but determined, mass protest is required against further compulsion for the furtherance of the war effort.

"As the feeling is to-day," the letter adds, "further measures of compulsion for the prosecution of the war may lead to far-reaching disturbances for which the Government will have to bear the responsibility."

Since the capture of Paris, General Hertzog asserts, the Allied cause is "doomed to failure." General Smuts and he, as Boer War veterans, he says, cannot let the country's re-won freedom be the victim of "the reckless, blind personal ambition which is causing the downfall of the peoples of Europe."

General Smuts replied by letter that this "dishonourable proposal" has already been decisively rejected by Parliament, and he does not doubt that if it is re-submitted it will suffer the same fate. It may be General Hertzog's opinion that the war has been hopelessly lost by the Allies, but in the last war, too, the supporters of Germany hoped and expected that it would be hopelessly lost by the Allies. They were disappointed. Now again the friends and advocates of Hitler who look expectantly for a Nazi victory will most probably meet with the same disappointment.

ANZACS IN ENGLAND

A WELL-KEPT SECRET

SYDNEY, Thursday.

Australia was surprised and delighted by the announcement to-day of the arrival in Great Britain of large contingents of the Australian Imperial Force and the New Zealand Expeditionary Force.

Their destination had been a well-kept secret from the general public.

The newspapers publish articles and photographs describing the troops embarking in giant luxury liners.

The arrival was announced in the House of Representatives to-day by the Commonwealth Prime Minister, Mr. Menzies (says a Canberra message).

It was, he said, of the greatest significance to the rest of the world that, at this critical hour, Australian and New Zealand troops had joined those from Canada in the heart of the Empire.

The decision to disembark forces in Britain, Mr. Menzies declared, was based on the consideration that the troops should be located where their assistance would be of the greatest service to the Allied cause.

BOMB EXPLOSIONS IN NEW YORK

NARROW ESCAPE OF GERMAN CONSULATE

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Thursday.

An explosion occurred to-day in the building in which the German Consulate is housed, but not in the Consulate itself.

The Consulate is in a large office in a building at Battery place.

The blast was on the eighteenth floor.

According to the latest report, eight persons were injured, two seriously.

The police state that the explosion is believed to have been caused by a bomb. It occurred in the office of a German foreign exchange firm, shortly after 9 p.m., British summer time.

An Associated Press message says that five people were reported to have been injured, two seriously. The German banking firm, in whose offices the explosion occurred, is not connected with the Consulate.

The police stated that the bomb was inside a package wrapped in brown paper.

Almost at the same time, another explosion occurred in the building housing the offices of the Communist Party.

No one has so far been reported injured in the second explosion, says Reuter. The bomb appears to have exploded in the basement. This latter building houses The Daily Worker, the Communist newspaper, Mr. Earl Bowder, the general secretary of the Communist Party, and the National and State headquarters of the party.

FIRE AT BOSTON WHARF

WHERE GERMAN TANKER IS DOCKED

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

BOSTON (MASS.), Thursday.

A fire broke out to-day at Battery Wharf, the docking place of the German tanker, Pauline Friederich, which has been in port here since last September. The Pauline Friederich, 4,733 tons, is registered at Hamburg.

OBITUARY

NO VISA FOR MME. TABOUIS

SAN SEBASTIAN, Thurdsay.

Mme. Tabouis, the French journalist, has been refused a visa to enter Spain, it was stated by refugees arriving here to-night.

Among those who arrived in this beautiful city to-day were M. Eugene Rothschild, a member of the banking family. He arrived with only five centimes.—Associated Press.

From July 1 all persons in Northern Ireland must carry their identity cards, and must produce them to any police constable in uniform on demand. Default will render the offender liable to a fine or imprisonment.

THE WAR

CAUSE OF FRENCH DEFEAT

TOO FEW CHILDREN, TOO FEW ARMS AND ALLIES

BORDEAUX, Thursday.

"Too few children, too few arms, too few allies—there is the cause of our defeat," said Marshal Pétain, the Prime Minister, in a broadcast speech to-day, says the Havas Agency.

"French people," said the Marshal, "I have asked the enemy to put an end to hostilities. The Government yesterday appointed plenipotentiaries to receive their conditions. I took this decision with the stout heart of a soldier, because the military situation imposed it.

"We had hoped to resist on the Somme-Aisne line. General Weygand had regrouped our forces, and his name alone presaged victory. The line yielded, however, under the pressure of the enemy, and forced our troops to retreat. From June 13 the request for an armistice was inevitable. The blow surprised you, and, remembering 1914-'18, you sought the reasons for it. I am going to give you them.

"On May 1, 1917, we still had 3,280,000 men under arms in spite of three years of murderous fighting. On the eve of the present battle we had 500,000 fewer. In May, 1918, we had 85 British divisions; in May, 1940, we only had 10. In 1918 we had with us 58 Italian divisions and 42 American divisions.

"The inferiority of our material was even greater than that of our effectives. French aviation has fought at odds of one to six.

"Not so strong as twenty-two years ago, we had also fewer friends. Too few children, too few arms, too few allies—there is the cause of our defeat.

"The French people do not deny the blow. All peoples have known ups and downs. It is by the way they react that they show themselves to be weak or great. We will learn a lesson from the battle which has been lost.

"Since victory the spirit of pleasure has prevailed over the spirit of sacrifice, people have demanded more than they have given, they have wanted to spare themselves effort. To-day misfortunes come. I was with you in the glorious moment, I will remain with you in the dark days. Stand by me. The fight still goes on. It is for France, the soil of her sons."

MANY TOWNS AND 200,000 PRISONERS

GERMAN CLAIMS

A German communiqué, issued on Thursday, says:—

"The French naval base at Brest, in Brittany, has been captured. In Normandy the lower Loire, from Nantes to Tours, has been reached and crossed at various places. In the middle Loire the pursuit continues over the Cher sector, and in the direction of Bourges, south of the Loire, our fighter formations continuously attacked the retreating enemy on roads behind the lines.

"Wherever resistance occurred, the Air Force supported the advance of the Army. In Northern Lorraine remnants of the beaten French Eastern Army—those that have not already been captured—are being pressed more and more in the region of the Mosel between Epinal and Toul, as well as in the Middle and part of the Upper Vosges. Epinal, Toul and Luneville have fallen into our hands.

"On both sides of Diedenhofen, in the Maginot Line, the struggle continues.

"To the west of Weissembourg the Maginot Line has again been breached. Dive bombers and fighter formations destroyed with direct hits a large part of the fortifications.

"Strasbourg has been taken from the south and east. The German war flag flies above Strasbourg Cathedral.

"In the Burgundy gap a junction has been effected between troops from Belfort and those from the Upper Rhine.

"Yesterday the number of prisoners taken totalled over 200,000, including the Commander-in-Chief of the French Tenth Army, General Altmeyer, and his Chief-of-Staff.

"The rapid capture on June 15 of the powerful fortress of Verdun, with its modern defences, was due to the bold and resolute co-operation of many officers.

"Since May 10 enemy aircraft, mainly British, have continued to attack during the night open German towns. Last night four civilians lost their lives. The German Air Force has, therefore, begun to wreak vengeance on Britain.

"Two German motor torpedo boats west of Dungeness destroyed a 4,000-ton steamer near the coast.

"A U-boat sank an enemy tanker of 8,000 tons.

"Another U-boat separated three ships from an enemy convoy and fired upon them.

"The enemy's total air losses amounted yesterday to 21 machines. Six German aeroplanes are missing.

"Last night air formations attacked with the heaviest bombs the important British armament centre of Billingham, with its nitrogen factories. Fierce fires, which were visible for 30 miles, showed the way to later attacking formations. Oil storage tanks in Hull were also set on fire."

A TRINITY HALL CEREMONY

PRESENTATION TO MISS MARGARET CUNNINGHAM

"Trinity Hall is an Irish hall, belonging to an Irish College, and I wanted it to have, not only a standard of work, of things of the mind and the spirit, but also to stand for an expression of the flower of Irish minds and spirits—to be wide and embracing in its sympathies and activities, to stand for all Ireland in its outlook."

These words were used last night by Miss Margaret Cunningham, who was presented with a picture and a photograph by the girls at present in residence on the occasion of her retirement after thirty-two years as Warden of Trinity Hall. The presentation was made by the senior student, Miss Eleanor Craig, who said that Miss Cunningham was one of those enviable people, who might look back on a life of service for others. The picture with which he was being presented—a Connemara setting by Maurice McGonigal—would be hung in the Hall, in accordance with her wishes, and would act as a further link in her connection with Trinity Hall.

Miss Cunningham, in thanking the donors, said that she had always felt her title of Warden to mean that it was her place to guard the past and the future, as well as the present. She thanked them for having understood what she felt, and for having put a visible seal to their common outlook, their common affection, and their common love of Trinity Hall and their mother, Trinity College.

PROTECTION OF HORSES

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It is no easy matter to put forward the claim of any society at such a moment as this, but the work of the International League for the Protection of Horses becomes more than ever necessary as forage prices rise and conditions generally become more difficult. This work must, and will, be carried on. The hearts of animal-lovers have been wrung by the piteous accounts of the sufferings of animals in the war zones. We are, unhappily, powerless to mitigate the colossal agonies caused by the horrors of war, but we can do a great deal in our own country to avoid adding to the sum-total of animal suffering in the world during these dark and sorrowful days.

Week by week the International League for the Protection of Horses buys up the old and outworn horses that would otherwise fall into the ruthless hands of tinkers, gipsies and low-class horse-copers to the doped and doctored, fired and blistered, beaten and terrified into the semblance of a working animal to be passed on to some credulous dupe or left in a ditch to die a lingering death, as happened a few days ago to a luckless bay gelding, when he could no longer hobble on with the rest of the cavalcade.

The representatives of the International League are present at all the sales, and the market in Dublin, where old horses of small value change hands every Thursday in the year. Within the past two-and-a-half years 526 of these feeble, pitiful, old animals have been bought. In most cases the best that can be done for them is to have them painlessly destroyed on the day of purchase. This is done in the presence of an Inspector of the S.P.C.A., who also accompanies them across the city on their final journey to ensure that they shall be led along quietly and slowly. Further particulars may be had from the honorary secretary for Eire.—Yours, etc.,

MRS. E. C. WHITTON.

SHOTS DURING RAID

CORK MAN CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED MURDER

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

CORK, Thursday.

On the application of a Civic Guard superintendent at Cork District Court to-day, a transmit warrant to Clonakilty Court area was granted in the case of Denis Griffin, Leitrim street, Cork, who is charged with the attempted to murder a private of the National Army, at Dunmanway, and unlawful possession of a revolver.

In the case of Denis O'Driscoll, publican, Dunmanway, who was charged with harbouring Griffin, with a view to preventing his arrest, informations were refused on the application of the Civic Guard superintendent.

The charge against Griffin arose from a recent incident at Dunmanway, when a military search party entered some premises and shots were fired.

£444,000,000 FOR U.S. EMERGENCY DEFENCE

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Thursday.

The United States Senate to-day passed the 1,777,000,000 dollar (about £444,250,000) Emergency Defence Appropriation Bill.

STATESMEN COME AS REFUGEES

OVERCROWDED BOAT REACHES ENGLAND

PRESS ASSOCIATION.

From bombed and war-torn France we arrived at an English South coast port yesterday evening in a vessel which brought with it, in addition to the normal complement of passengers, over 1,300 refugees from France.

Many had come from Brussels and Paris, whence they had been driven slowly southwards by the German advance. Few had slept in a bed for the last week or more. The ship normally carries 180 passengers.

On board there were:—Sir Maurice Peterson, late Ambassador to Madrid; M. Pierre Cot, former French Air Minister; Baron Robert de Rothschild, the French dramatist, Henri Bernstein, and M. Jasper, Belgian Foreign Minister.

M. Ossuski, the Czech Minister, who had got on board, returned at the last minute to Bordeaux to look after six Czech airmen, and he remained there as he felt that his duty lay in France. One of the British officers aboard was among the last to leave the Maginot Line. Twelve British wounded were taken on at the last moment.

An idea of conditions on board the vessel is gained when it is realised that, apart from tea and bread and butter, only one carefully measured meal was able to be served per day owing to the sudden influx of passengers. The captain and crew, assisted by marines and volunteers, worked day and night without sleep and are above all praise.

One ton of meat, 1,400 pounds of flour and huge "mountains" of butter were consumed in only a day and a half. The ship's baker had to make five bakings a day to keep up with the demand.—Press Association War Special.

NORTHERN IRELAND'S HOME DEFENCE

MARKED INTEREST AT WESTMINSTER

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Thursday.

Certain members of the House of Commons are watching with interest what may happen in Northern Ireland consequent upon the resignation of the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Finance, who is of the opinion that the Northern Government has failed to appreciate the danger of invasion. The matter is being much discussed, both by Conservative and Labour members, and it is not unlikely that more will be heard of it before long.

THE DUBLIN "HUNDRED"

ENTRIES FOR PHŒNIX PARK RACE

Although entries do not close finally till the week-end, twenty already have been received for the Dublin "Hundred" motor cycle road race and Irish national championships, which are to be run in the Phœnix Park on 6th July. It is expected that at least ten more will be received, including a number from Cork. In the present list there are five riders from the North of Ireland, including a previous winner in R. P. Farlow, of Co. Fermanagh. The list is as follows:—

Nortons—L. Duffy, Dublin; J. N. Merriman, Dublin; A. Clancey, Dublin; G. Lowry, Belfast; E. Robertson Belfast; B. Brennan, Curragh.

Velocettes—J. F. Manning, Dublin; T. Carroll, Dublin; J. E. Little, Belfast; R. P. Farlow, Maguiresbridge.

Triumph—R. Kenny, Dublin; J. Dempsey, Dublin; G. Ennis, Dublin; R. McCandless, Belfast.

Rudge—V. Fortune, Dublin; J. McGrane, Dublin; P. J. Nagle, Dublin.

B.S.A.—J. Gibney, Dublin.

Scott—J. Egan, Dublin.

Excelsior—R. Mossop, Dublin.

Provisionally included—P. Gill, Dublin, Excelsior; E. Lyons, Kildare, Triumph, and P. Lyons, Kildare, Triumph.

EXHIBITION OF ETCHINGS

WORK OF DRESDEN ARTISTS

The work of two Dresden etchers constitutes an exhibition now being held at the Victor Waddington Gallery, South Anne street, Dublin. One of the artists is interned in Austria, the other is a refugee.

Hans Grundig and Lea Langer are husband and wife; their etchings are works of art redolent with an awful impression of the widespread ruthlessness of human passion suffered in this generation. Hans Grundig's mental reaction is expressed in scenes of savagery, pain and fear among wild animals. Lea Langer dwells on the dumb agony of her kind in the midst wondering, tears and mourning. Each of these pictures is a conundrum. Sometimes in a title such as No. 28, "To What End?" Grundig asks for an answer to the riddle—in this picture the artist has etched a scene of snarling wolves tearing savagely at each other's bodies and limbs. In No. 4, "The Mob," two great bears vainly defend themselves from ravening jackals. In No. 17, "Wild Dogs," mean brutality is expressed. Fierce fangs tear the flesh of lions in No. 16, "Victims," and one, already down, is being rended on the ground.

"December," No. 18, is possibly prophetic in its desolate prospect of bare land, leafless trees and a starving animal seeking food. No. 1, "The Force," is fear driving maddened horses, wild-eyed and with bared teeth, in reckless rush.

The artist in many pictures has allowed himself fantastic licence in the delineation form as if carried beyond all restraint in the force of his imagination, but his very extravagance is justified by a governing artistic truth.

Lea Langer must have long ago been disturbed by contemplation of a future which then seemed dark to her. The etching, "Whither," No. 21, is dated 1930, and depicts imprints of feet going towards a dark tunnel and few returning. In No. 22, "Mourning," is shown an unhappy crowd. It is dated 1937. Nos. 24, 25 and 26, "Mothers," "Lost," and "Motherhood," are full of pathos; the last speaks of the future, but little of hope.

D.U. MISSION TO CHOTA NAGPUR

PAGEANT OF IRISH SAINTS

Scenes from the lives of St. Patrick, St. Brigid and St. Columba were enacted last night in the Parochial Hall, Harold's Cross, Dublin. The pageant was in aid of the Dublin University Mission to Chota Nagpur, whose jubilee is being celebrated this year.

A large number of players took part, and the entire production was in the capable hands of Miss Mary White, Mrs. Harding's orchestra and Miss Sylvia Fannin's choir contributed valuable help.

The principal players were the Rev. George Simms, who took the part of St. Patrick; Pamela Duncan, as St. Brigid, and Anthony Hanson, who played St. Columba.

Mrs. Smith, of Monasterevan, spoke the prologue and the epilogue.

EXPENDITURE IN THE NORTH

COMPLAINT OF EXTRAVAGANCE

MINISTER REPLIES TO CRITICISM

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Thursday.

SPEAKING at Stormont to-day, Mr. Edmond Warnock, K.C. (U.) drew attention to the extraordinary growth in public expenditure in Northern Ireland. He said that for the six years 1934-1935 to 1939-1904 the expenditure under the Northern Government had increased year by year from £8,500,428 to £12,350,691. An examination of the estimates for the six years showed that expenditure was very largely up in nearly every department of the Government.

He dealt at length with the various increases.

Regarding the R.U.C., he said that there was no effective check on expenditure under this head. The cost of this force had risen by £112,000 in six years, and the annual cost was still rising rapidly. Some of the expenditure on police showed an utter disregard of public economy.

The staff of the Civil Service generally had increased to an amazing extent. He instanced the architects' section, where the staff had expanded from 36 to 56. Again, in the establishment branch the staff had increased from 90 to 155.

THE CIVIL SERVICE

He was absolutely satisfied that the Government service was grossly overstaffed, and whatever else these figures showed they made it abundantly clear that the Civil Service would continue to grow until the House of Commons asserted its control.

Last autumn there was an examination for 36 vacancies, but 46 candidates were accepted and employed. While he was a member of the Government he tried hard to stem this tide of expenditure, and he put a memorandum before the Minister of Home Affairs on the subject. These figures pointed irresistibly to the conclusion that the expenditure was far greater than Northern Ireland could afford, and that there would have to be a radical alteration. They were going to face bad times, but they could not face them in this way.

Mr. J. M. Andrews, Minister of Finance, replying, said that Mr. Warnock did not set out the true position. It was only on April 18 that he heard that Mr. Warnock felt there was extravagance. If there was extravagance, he, as the Minister of Finance, would take the responsibility. Estimates must increase as long as Parliament kept passing laws, and the administration of new laws entailed an increase in staffs.

"A MISTAKE"

Efficiency and promptness were essential in the Civil Service, and these could not be achieved by under-staffing of departments. Mr. Warnock made the mistake of comparing estimates with estimates, instead of estimates with actual expenditure. What did the public know about the work done by the different departments? The parrot cry of over-staffing was most discouraging to the Civil Service staff.

"If there is anything wrong in connection with the finances of the country, I am to blame. No one can say that I have not given Ulster the best that is in me, and have not worked with all the strength that is in me, and there is a good deal left still."

FIVE YEARS' PENAL SERVITUDE

VOLUNTEER'S THEFT FROM THE CURRAGH

Stating that the Court was taking a more lenient view than it would otherwise have done because of the attitude adopted by the prisoner, the President of the Special Criminal Court at Collins' Barracks, Dublin, yesterday, imposed a sentence of five years' penal servitude on Dominic Sullivan, Clounalour, Tralee, Co. Kerry.

Sullivan had pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering a battery store at Plunkett Barracks, Curragh, and stealing two rifles, a Webley revolver, three fountain pens, a pencil set and a pocket watch. He pleaded "not guilty" to having the revolver in his possession with intent to endanger life, and a nolle prosequi was entered on this charge.

Mr. Oliver Moriarty, K.C. (instructed by Mr. D. O'Donovan, Chief State Solicitor's Office), who prosecuted, said that the charges were grave, particularly in view of the fact that the accused man was a Volunteer and was wearing a uniform which by his own actions he had abused. As a soldier, his duty was to guard the property of the Minister for Defence, but instead he did the exact opposite and used his position as a soldier for the purpose of stealing these rifles. He had served at the Curragh after having stolen the rifles, and when he was granted his exemption he took with him to his home in Tralee the revolver which he had stolen. In favour of Sullivan it must be stated that when arrested he told a military officer that he would tell where the rifles were. At that time the rifles had been recovered, but the accused man did not know that.

A police officer stated that Sullivan had been convicted in 1937 for possession of a firearm without a Firearms Certificate.

Mr. Seán Hooper (instructed by Mr. P. Wilkinson, solicitor, Naas), who appeared for the defence, said that while he could not minimise the seriousness of this offence committed by a member of the armed forces, he would like to say that there were more people concerned in these raids than his client. As a matter of fact, he was the youngest of the men, being only 18 years of age, and was merely a tool in the hands of people much older than himself. He was not a member of any illegal or subversive organisation, and there was nothing to show that the theft of the arms was for the purpose of handing them over to such an organisation.

The President passed judgment, as stated.

TRADE RETURNS FOR MAY

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS UP

Comparison between exports and imports in May of this year and the same month last year shows that both have substantially increased. The figures are:—

	1939.	1940.
Imports ...	£3,386,015 ...	£4,472,310
Exports ...	1,981,312 ...	2,787,176

The increase in the value of live animals imported was from £73,553 to £127,984; in food, drink and tobacco from £734,537 to £1,254,491, and other raw materials and manufactured goods from £2,481,038 to £3,002,034. Goods inwards by parcel post fell from £96,887 to £87,801.

Exports of live animals rose from £935,147 to £1,023,877; food, drink and tobacco rose from £841,686 to £1,422,413, and other raw materials and manufactured goods exported rose from £186,437 to £318,711. Parcel post exports rose from £18,042 to £22,175.

The total trade for the month of May was £7,259,486, while the adverse balance was £1,685,134.

BRITAIN'S 4,000,000 ARMY

Four more classes instead of the three originally expected are to register for British military service next month, it was announced in the House of Commons yesterday. It is understood that the dates will be: 1909 Class, July 6; 1908, July 13; 1907, July 20; and 1906, July 27.

These four call-ups will bring the total number registered to over 4,000,000.

BORDER INCIDENT RECALLED

JUSTICE AND CHARGE OF SMUGGLING

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

CARRICK-ON-SHANNON, Thursday.

A further stage in the case against seventeen young men—two were discharged at last hearing—charged in connection with the incidents which occurred in March last, when Guards and civilians came into clash in the Cuilcagh Mountains, on the Leitrim-Cavan border, while importing flour, was reached at Dowra District Court to-day, when the cases came up for decision.

John McCauley and James Early, of Eden, are now charged with smuggling, and the following are charged with being concerned in the importation of flour from Northern Ireland at Moneygashel on 27th March last; assault and obstruction of Customs officers, and riotous assembly and assault of Sergeant T. J. Rock, Blacklion, and other members of the Civic Guard:—Michael McHugh, Cashel, Dowra; James Wynne, Kiltynagarn, County Leitrim; Owen McGowan, Corrahash; Michael V. McGovern, Tullinamoyle; Thomas Woods, do.; Patrick Coyle, Fingreagh, County Leitrim; Patrick J. Wynne, Tullynarogue; Patrick Darcy, Lisanerris; Thomas McDermott, do.; John J. McLoughlin, Dowra; Michael Carrigan, Corrawehill; Stephen Carrigan, do.; Peter Flynn, Derralister, County Cavan; Jim McPartlin, Lisanerris, and Joseph McPartlin, Cullentra, County Leitrim.

At the last hearing, at which Mr. J. Geraghty, B.L. (instructed by Mr. E. J. Duffy, State Solicitor, Cavan) appeared for the Revenue Commissioners, John Dolan, Dolan, Cloonmore, and Patrick Wynne, Corlishbannon, were acquitted of all charges after the evidence had been heard at length.

Justice Rice said that he had stated at the last Court that he found himself up against a stone wall. Since then he had done his best to circumvent or get around it or over it. He wished to know if the Revenue Commissioners had withdrawn their claims for £100 or were they standing over them?

Mr. Duffy, State Solicitor—They are. I do not think any useful purpose will be served by adjourning the cases for the purpose of seeing if the Revenue Commissioners will alter their decision.

Justice Rice—I do not think there is any chance of changing the opinion of this Court. The Court cannot arrive at a finding. The riot charges are bound up in the smuggling cases as regards penalty.

Mr. Duffy—The riot cases are common law and the smuggling cases are statutory offences. You can dispose of the riot cases independent of the smuggling cases.

Justice Rice—I am not disposed to do so. He said that he was unable to give a decision as regarded the guilt or innocence in the smuggling cases.

Justice Rice eventually adjourned his decision to the next Court.

The defendants were allowed to remain on continuing bail to next Court, when Mr. Rice said that the cases would be then disposed of.

ENTHRONEMENT OF NEW BISHOP

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

ENNISCORTHY, Thursday.

The new Bishop of Ossory, Ferns and Leighlin (Right Rev. John Percy Phair), was enthroned in the Diocese of Ferns at St. Edan's Cathedral, Ferns, to-day, in presence of a large assemblage of clergy and laity from all parts of the United Diocese.

As the Processional Hymn was sung, the choir, clergy and chapter moved to their places in the Cathedral. The Dean (Very Rev. A Forbes) took his place at the north side of the Holy Table, the Bishop kneeling at the south side. The Diocesan Registrar read and presented to the Dean the Archbishop's mandate for enthronement.

The Bishop then made his declaration, and after Evening Prayers he addressed the congregation and gave the Benediction.

The clergy present, in addition to the Dean, included:—The Ven. Archdeacon J. R. Willis, Gorey; the Rev. Chancellor W. G. Squires, the Rev. Canon J. C. Ludgate, Fethard; Rev. Canon W. Rennisson, Ardcolm; Rev. Canon T. Talbot, New Ross; Rev. Canon J. J. Smyth, Templeshambo; Rev. Canon J. H. Bradish, Rev. W. B. Furlong, Ballycanew; Rev. W. B. Stack, Duncormack; Rev. T. R. Vanson, Carnew; Rev. M. H. Talbot, Clonegal; Rev. T. N. Bateman, Crosspatrick; Rev. W. A. Packham, Enniscorthy; Rev. Mr. Lewin, Ferns; Rev. G. H. Kidd, Killegney; Rev. E. F. Forrest, Kilnamanagh; Rev. G. A. O'Neill, Kilscoran; Rev. G. J. F. Verschoyle, Ardamine; Rev. C. M. Stack, Rev. B. G. McLoughlin, New Ross; Rev. R. H. Warburton, Preban; Rev. J. F. Hazley, Wexford; Rev. S. Rowe, Wexford; Rev. S. Madden, Ardamine; Rev. R. C. Madden, Clondalkin, County Dublin.

After the ceremony the clergy and laity present were entertained by Mrs. Forbes at the Deanery.

THE NORTHERN GOVERNMENT

CENSURE MOTION NEXT WEEK

Mr. E. Warnock, K.C., M.P., and Lieut.-Colonel A. R. G. Gordon, D.L., M.P., who have resigned as junior Ministers in the Northern Ireland Government, have tabled a vote of censure for Tuesday next. The motion reads:—

> That the Government of Northern Ireland, as at present constituted, does not command the confidence of this House.

Colonel Gordon, whose resignation as Financial Secretary to the Ministry of Finance was announced on Wednesday, sent the following letter yesterday to the Secretary of the Ulster Cabinet:—

"The announcement regarding my appointment as a Staff Officer in the Special Constabulary at the Inspector-General's Headquarters does not make my position clear.

"The Special Constabulary are borne on the votes of the Ministry of Home Affairs, and it would, therefore, appear that I would be holding an 'office of profit' under the Crown, and, consequently, would be debarred from the House of Commons.

"The correct position is as follows:—On May 30, at the request of both the Prime Minister and the Inspector-General, I voluntarily undertook to assist in the organisation of the Local Volunteer Defence Force.

"My position is exactly the same as any member of the House of Commons who has joined this Force, except that I am assisting at headquarters in the organisation, instead of in the city or country.

"At my request, the Prime Minister has asked that I may be re-commissioned in the Army, and for this I most sincerely thank him.

"A copy of this letter has been sent to the Press, as it is essential my position must be made clear without any doubt whatsoever."

PROPOSED JEWISH ARMY

DEMONSTRATION IN NEW YORK

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Thursday.

"It will be a great honour to tell Prime Minister Churchill we are coming," declared Mr. Valdimir Jabotinsky, addressing a demonstration in favour of raising a Jewish Army held here last night, according to the Jewish Telegraph Agency.

Mr. Jabotinsky announced that 10,000 dollars had so far been raised for a recruiting drive for a Jewish Army. Mr. Michael Haskel had cabled half this amount from South Africa.

According to a dispatch from another Jewish source thousands of people packed the Manhattan centre in New York for the demonstration.

RACING IN ENGLAND OUTLOOK

STOPPAGE MAY BE ONLY TEMPORARY

The belief held in some quarters that the stoppage of racing in England is due to the insistant campaign against sport in general, and, racing in particular, being carried on under present conditions, is not borne out by statements from official sources. Those best in a position to give judgment on the sudden Government order state that the instruction to suspend racing was arrived at only because of the developments in war activity, i.e.—the increasing volume of activity which renders it imperative that all unnecessary travelling and the gathering of crowds should be temporarily avoided.

It is not to be overlooked that racing is only suspended for the time being, and not abandoned until the end of the war, as might have been the case. In fact, there is a general feeling that the sport will be resumed at any time when the present dangers either disappear or become less serious.

It always has been expressed by Government spokesmen that there was no official desire to stop all public entertainment, thus depriving thousands of their means of livelihood and others of their source of relaxation and entertainment, and, it is to be presumed, if and when circumstances improve, that the whole subject wizll be reviewed. Rightly, the Jockey Club will not harass the Government, and it is from the Government themselves that the next move will come when the time is propitious for re-considering the recent decision.

NEWMARKET HORSES FOR IRISH DERBY

GOLDEN TIGER MAY BE MOUNT OF JOE CANTY

NEWMARKET, Thursday.

At the moment trainers seem to be dubious about the course to take with the horses they have in training, but it can be expected that the number of these will be small, and only animals possessing good merit will be retained in the hope that there may be a resumption of racing at intervals later. More horses probably will be sent to Ireland to race and others sold for abroad.

Newmarket stables will be represented in the Irish Derby on Wednesday next by Golden Tiger and Turkhan. This morning Golden Tiger was ridden by P. Beasley in a good pace gallop over ten furlongs with Longriggan. Turkhan was accompanied by Bisharin in a similar gallop. As I understand that there have been certain difficulties regarding passports, it is probable that the services of Joe Canty may be sought for Golden Tiger.

GOLF

BURKE'S SIXTH TITLE

Dr. O'Sullivan puts up Great Fight in "Close" Final

BY OUR GOLF CORRESPONDENT.

WINNER of the Irish Close Amateur Championship in 1930, '31, '32, '33 and '36, and runner-up in 1935 and 1937, John Burke, at Dollymount yesterday, regained the title, defeating Dr. William O'Sullivan in the 36 holes final by 4 and 3.

Previous to his latest achievement in the event the Lahinch and Limerick golfer, who is also an Irish internationalist and played for Britain in the Walker Cup match at Brooklyn, Mass., in 1932, had set a record with his five victories. Lionel O. Munn was Native champion four times prior to the Great War, and now Burke has accomplished a feat that is not likely to be equalled. He emerged into prominence as a first class player when he won the South of Ireland Championship at Lahinch in 1928, but after twelve years of international and championship golf he is playing almost as well as when he came under the notice of the Walker Cup selectors. He may not now be driving as long or as straight as formerly; but his powers of recovery are as ever, and he remains the master Irish amateur in the variety of strokes he has at his command in emergencies. We realised that this week at Dollymount, where he played some magnificent strokes from the rough and on hard approaches to the greens, and his putting, always his only weakness, now is better than at any time in his career. It was well for him that he was so capable of recovery yesterday; otherwise this final might easily have gone much further than the fifteenth, for O'Sullivan played a very fine game, was always pressing him hard and had none at all of the luck which plays so important a part in the winning of championship finals.

As a matter of fact, there were periods when it seemed as if victory might go to the Kerry man, who recovered splendidly from a perilous position in the forenoon.

THE FIRST ROUND

At the fifth hole O'Sullivan was as many as four down, but he hit back hard, and Burke in the sweltering heat had to put it all in to finish the round two up. The golf for the first nine was quite ordinary. They were all over the course, and in places where one would not expect to see plusmen. Burke took 38 to reach the turn, and his opponent half-a-dozen more. O'Sullivan's approximate figures including sixes at the second and third, and an eight at the fifth, where he was always in trouble. But, on the holes in the

The approximate figures were:—

Burke ... Out—5 5 4 3 5 4 5 4 3—38
In—5 4 2 4 4 5 3 4 4—35

standard of the golf played by each was of the highest. The bogey for these holes is 39, but O'Sullivan was back in 33 and Burke in 35, O'Sullivan's only 5 being at the fifteenth, where he missed a hole with a putt of a couple of feet for the win in four.

The feature of the round was the magnificent wooden shot which Burke played to the eighth green from the hills on the right, and which enabled him to get his 4 and take a lead of three. Another feature was the halving of the twelfth in 2, Burke holing from five yards, and O'Sullivan from but little less. They both holed big putts on the way in, two and three yarders being simple strokes on the perfect greens, which were dead true. The play to the home hole was high-class. O'Sullivan's iron, played high, dropped a few yards wide on the left of the flag, but Burke was inside him. O'Sullivan was almost in in 3, laid a stymie, and Burke had to play safe for the half.

THE SECOND ROUND

It was an exciting round to the Dardanelles (13th), where the game went definitely in favour of Burke. Up to that point O'Sullivan was battling it out gallantly, so much so that he was then only two down, but Burke's 3 there—a 420 yards bogey 5—the result of a drive, mashie-niblick and 4 yards putt, must have disheartened his opponent, who had a good 4.

That left Burke in the very comfortable position of 3 up with five to play, and the end came when, with the likelihood of a win in 4 at the 14th to keep the match going on, O'Sullivan was laid a dead stymie, which he failed to loft.

Both were putting beautifully. O'Sullivan holed from five yards at the first after running up too strongly, and from eight yards on the third, Burke got a half in 4. The short 4th brought misfortune to O'Sullivan, who was lying badly in the sand on the left, and was only barely out—another loss in 3-5. He, however, with a fine pitch up from the left and a five yards putt, got a half in 4 at the fifth, and then came Burke's only bad putt of the match—a miss from about eighteen inches at the short sixth. O'Sullivan had the worst of the lies from pulled drives to the eighth, for whilst Burke could play a long wooden shot, he had to take an iron. He cut it, cut his third also almost into the garden of St. Anne's clubhouse, and Burke, with a 5, stood 3 up again, but O'Sullivan took the short ninth with a 3. From fifteen yards Burke holed for a 3 at the 404 yards tenth. The ball hit the back of the hole, popped up, and dropped in when it otherwise would have run a long way past the hole. O'Sullivan got one back at the eleventh, Burke being out of bounds, but that 3 at the thirteenth virtually decided his fate. Burke won the fourteenth also in 4, his opponent requiring 3 from the edge of the green, and the stymie at the next hole ended a grand match. Result:—

TIE FOR BUILDERS' PRESIDENT'S PRIZE

The Dublin Builders and Allied Trades G.S. competition for the President's (Mr. J. J. Murphy) prize at Milltown yesterday resulted in a tie between W. H. Thrift (6) and J. Marshall (20) with 68 nett. Details:—

CYCLING

FAST RIDING BY MARLOW

M. Marlow, of the National Club, won the 25 miles time trial of the Dublin Wheelers on the Navan road last evening in the fastest time for distance in Ireland this year—1 hr. 40 secs. T. F. Quinn (City of Dublin) also beat the previous best with a ride of 1 hr. 1 min. 9 secs., and E. Kirwan (City of Dublin) did 1 hr. 2 mins. 7 secs., just missing the distinction of being inside the old time by a second. The first half dozen were inside 63 mins.

The handicap was won by N. Andrews (Co. Dublin R.C.) off 12 mins. in 55 mins. 51 secs.

ROUND TOWER RACE

A field of 23 took part in the 15 miles competitor-paced open handicap of the Round Tower Club over the two mile course in the Phoenix Park last evening. Although seven riders were on the scratch mark, they made little impression on limit men (2 mins. 30 secs.). Three of the latter—G. O'Connor (Eagle), S. Burke and J. Thompson (Round Tower)—had the finish to themselves and finished in that order. Time—34 mins. 46 secs.

IRISH SPORTSMEN ABROAD.

EGAN DEFEATS READ

PORTER'S FINE EFFORT AGAINST FANNIN

R. F. Egan, the holder, will meet A. E. Fannin in the final of the men's singles in the East of Ireland championships at Lansdowne Club to-morrow. In the semi-final round yesterday Egan avenged in no uncertain manner, his defeat at the hands of P. Read in the hard court championships, the score on this occasion being 6-3 6-2 in favour of the Davis Cup man. He held complete control off the ground after a nervous start, and, after taking the lead in the first set, he always looked a winner.

Contrary to expectations, he did not attack from the net, but he carried more pace off the ground all the time, and his placing was more accurate. He was also making very few mistakes, whereas Read's shots were hitting the tape time and again. There were some long duels from the base-line, but Egan generally had the better of them. Read won the first two games, but then Egan settled down and took four in a row, which pretty well decided the matter. In the second set Egan got the early lead, and although Read made a valiant effort to level at 3-all, it was of no avail.

E. H. Porter, who has not figured prominently in the top rank for the last year or two, is showing some of his old form at present, and he put up a very excellent fight against Fannin. In fact, only a superb and rather desperate fore-arm drive by Fannin straight down the line prevented Porter from taking a 3-1 lead in the final set, and he also lost a point for 3-all. It was an interesting battle, with Porter putting up a rare defence against Fannin's deep drives, and hitting an occasional very good winner himself on the forehand. However, the length told in the end, though Porter never gave up the struggle, and had a point for 5-all.

The women's semi-finals provided widely contrasting matches, for, while Miss Lombard had to struggle hard in the third set to beat Mrs. Goddard, Miss Poole, in the other match, did not concede a game to Mrs. M. Dunne. With her backhand working smoothly in support of her powerful forearm drive, Mrs. Goddard came from 1-2 in the first set to lead 3-2, and from 3-all went out at 6-3. Her pace off the ground was beating Miss Lombard, but the latter deepened her length in the second set, and found her opponent falling into errors, so she levelled the sets for the loss of one game. The final set was hard pegging to 2-all, but after that Miss Lombard was particularly severe on anything short of a length, and going away to 5-2 took set and match at 6-3.

In the other match, Miss Poole slowed down the game so successfully and made so few mistakes that she never gave Mrs. Dunne the slightest chance. The latter generally hit one or two really good winners in each game, but she made a number of errors, too. Still, she deserved a much kinder fate.

THE RESULTS

BOXING

RODERICK TO DEFEND WELTER TITLE

Ernie Roderick (Liverpool) has agreed to defend his British welter-weight championship against Norman Snow (Northampton) on Saturday, July 13, at Northampton. Roderick will engage in a fight at Liverpool Stadium on July 4, against an opponent yet to be selected. He won the title from Jake Kilrain (Glasgow) at Liverpool on March 23, 1939.

YACHTING

DUBLIN BAY CLUB

So scant was the north-easterly breeze last evening in Dublin Bay that the prospects of a finish in any of the four matches started was remote from the outset. As it was, however, the new rule of the D.B.S.C. allowing a decision to be reached in such circumstances on the completion of the first round, enabled the 17-Footers to register a finish, but all three of the other matches fell through. The 17-Footers started at 6.30 p.m., and the finish was:—Eileen (scr.), 7-55-21; Rosemary (1st prize) (4m.), 7-56-5; Rita (2nd prize) (5m.), 7-59-42; Deilginis (3m.), 8-0-17.

FINDS IN CORK STORES

ALLEGED "BOMB PLANT"

THE HEARING ADJOURNED

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

CORK, Thursday.

THE hearing began at Cork District Court to-day of the charge against Timothy Collins, Lower Glanmire road, Cork, of having in his possession or under his control 212 hand grenade cases with intent to endanger life or cause injury to property.

The case is a sequel to the recent discovery in a disused stores in Cork of a crudely-equipped plant for the manufacture of home-made bombs.

A Civic Guard Superintendent said that he was present when the stores at Coach street, Cork, were searched on May 12. There was a plywood partition dividing the ground floor into two compartments. In the inner compartment he found 140 newly-made grenade castings, a sample of which he produced. He also found a number of receipts.

POLICE EVIDENCE

A Chief Superintendent also described the search of the stores at Coach street. "I found a complete plant for the manufacture of bomb castings," he said. "It consisted of one motor engine, with petrol tank and radiator attached; one bellows for a blast furnace, one coupling shaft, one blast furnace canopy and sheet steel chimney, one length of one-inch piping, two lengths of two-inch piping, and two steel barrels, lined with fire bricks." Witness said that he also found a pair of boots, a Primus oil stove, three ladles and handles for same, a pair of foundry kneecaps, a sack containing about 1½ cwt. of plaster of Paris, a tyre lever, a file, some copper tubing, seven motor car aluminium pistons, a double-burning oil stove, some black slag, a sheet steel bench top, 1lb. of two-inch nails, 2lbs. of three-inch nails, an emery wheelstone, an army rug, a pair of dividers for measuring, a sack containing dark-coloured slag, a wooden bench, a spring balance, a small spray gun, a lathe bench, a quantity of scrap iron, lengths of piping, shafting, foundry metal, large pieces of scrap metal, candles, blasting sand and moulding sand.

BOMB CASTINGS

In addition, said witness, there were found 212 bomb castings, a metal mould and four male metal moulds, and 32 box moulds. There was also a pair of overalls.

There was also in the store a 14 h.p. car of old model, the rear seat missing. The keys were in the switch. There was some sand in the car similar to that found in the wooden box mouldings.

The hearing was adjourned.

BRAY URBAN DISTRICT COUNCIL

AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

"It need not be said that, while the debts due by individual members of the Council are allowed to accumulate, the authority of the Council, and to some extent of the Council's officers in the collection of debts due from the public in the area, is seriously vitiated."

This statement is contained in the report of Mr. J. J. Healy, Auditor to the Department of Local Government and Public Health, on his audit of the accounts of the Bray Urban District Council for the year ended March 31, 1939.

Mr. Healy was dealing with the collections of the town and poor rates, which, he said, showed some deterioration as compared with the previous year, and the amounts carried forward were proportionately high.

On behalf of the Bray Ratepayers' Association, he added, the Secretary and Treasurer made an examination of the irrecoverable and arrears list, and directed his attention to the names of five members of the Council which appeared on the arrears list. One of these five members was heavily in arrears in respect of his payment of a loan which he obtained under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Acts and for non-domestic water rent payable to the Council. Another owed a large sum in respect of work done by the Council in remedying defective drains on premises in his ownership, under Section 45, Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1907.

The adverse balance of £6,254 19s. 3d. on general account at the 31st March, 1938, increased to £9,433 1s. 7d. at the close of the financial year, and, with the outstanding balance (£2,400) in respect of loan for payment of overdraft, amounted very nearly to the sum of £12,000, for which a loan was authorised in 1931 to liquidate the revenue indebtedness at that time.

Dealing with the arrears of rents on the dwellings erected under the Housing of the Working Classes Acts, Mr. Healy pointed out that they amounted to £5,078 5s. 11d., but they had been reduced by £650 11s. 7d. written off during the year as irrecoverables and vacancies. In so far as the Council, he commented, had disregarded or overridden the recommendations of the rent collector, they must take the responsibility and blame for the present state of the collection.

Ten houses in all, he said, had been taken over by the Council from defaulting borrowers under the Small Dwellings Acquisition Acts, but otherwise the collection of instalments showed no substantial improvement. Of these ten houses, six were let; one, which had been let up to November last, was now vacant, and three had never been let.

The report, which has been circulated among the members of the Urban Council, will be considered at a future meeting of the Council.

ARMED ROBBERY ALLEGED

OLD MAN'S COURT STORY

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

DUNDALK, Thursday.

The story of an armed hold-up in his own house was told to-day at Dundalk Circuit Court, before Judge Comyn and a jury, by an old man—John Mulholland, of Carrickrobin, County Louth—when his nephew, Thomas Woods, and another farm labourer, Patrick Kieran, both of Carrickrobin, were charged with having, while armed, robbed Mulholland of £28, and with having conspired to rob him.

The accused men pleaded "not guilty."

Mulholland said that he worked all his life as a farm labourer, and one night in the last week in February he went home, lighted a candle, and was lighting the fire when two men, each wearing a black mask, came into the house. One of them carried a revolver and ordered him to put up his hands. When he did this one of the men took the money from his pocket and then cleared out of the house. He recognised his nephew, Thomas Woods, as one of the men. He did not report the robbery for some time, until he met a Civic Guard who was inquiring about another robbery in the district.

Woods denied that he had ever held-up or robbed his uncle. He had an old revolver, which he had found in a ditch three years ago, but it had been thrown out long since by another uncle, and he had only been able to find a couple of small parts of it.

Kieran also denied that he had anything to do with the robbery of the old man.

The jury found the men "not guilty" on the charges. Kieran was discharged, but Woods, who was found guilty of having a revolver without a certificate, was sentenced to three months' hard labour.

Judge Comyn said that the jury had been very lenient with the men, who, if they had been found guilty on the major charges, would have gone to penal servitude for five years.

IRISH NEWS IN BRIEF

Killed in Action.—Mr. Peter R. H. Browne, of Rosslyn, Bray, County Wicklow, whose death in action was reported as having occurred in France, is now reported to have been killed in Flanders.

* * *

Alleged Worthless Cheque.—Charged with having, by means of a worthless cheque, obtained £8 from Michael Leahy, with intent to defraud, John J. Turmey, Marlboro' street, was at Cork District Court, yesterday, remanded on bail.

* * *

Women's Emergency League.—A Women's National Emergency League has been formed in Cork to organise aid, if necessary, in the present emergency. Miss P. Barry, hon. secretary, explained that the organisation was formed for all women, irrespective of political leanings.

* * *

Milk Prosecution.—At Lucan District Court yesterday, before Justice O'Sullivan, John Cromer, Lucan, and Edward Poynton, Allenwood, Lucan, were summoned by the County Dublin County Council for selling samples of milk to Guard Lynam, Inspector of Food and Drugs, which were deficient of fats. Cromer was fined 10s., with 21s. costs, and Poynton 2s., with 21s. costs.

* * *

Eire Unemployment Figures.—The number of persons registered at the employment exchanges on June 15 was 61,748, as compared with 63,762 in the previous week. Of this number, 21,007 had unemployment insurance claims current, 11,675 had unemployment assistance applications current (with means), and 23,460 (without means); others were 5,606.

Arson and Larceny Charge.—Charged with maliciously setting fire to a slaughter-house at Bohercrowe, Tipperary, and with stealing from it a quantity of wool, David Barron, aged 16, of Bohercrowe, was, at Tipperary District Court, sent for trial in custody. Compensation claims for the burning of the building and the missing wool have been lodged by the respective owners, Mrs. Alice O'Neill, £150, and Mr. M. Moloney, £40.

* * *

Mental Hospital Officers.—Grangegorman Mental Hospital Committee yesterday re-elected Mr. Michael J. Staines and Mr. P. T. Daly as chairman and vice-chairman, respectively. Dr. John Dunne, R.M.S., reported that there are now 3,645 patients—an increase of two on the corresponding date of 1939—in the Committee's hospitals. Substantial advance purchases of clothing and bedding, fuel and building supplies were made by the Finance Committee during the past month.

* * *

Dublin Port Authority.—Dublin Port and Docks Board yesterday congratulated the Assistant Harbour Master, Captain A. J. O'B. Twohig, on his appointment as Competent Port Authority for Dublin, for the purposes of which he has been granted a temporary commission in the Defence Forces as Lieutenant-Commander. The chairman, Captain Gordon, said that the appointment was a part-time one, and would not interfere with ordinary duties; it would facilitate port work, and there would be no disruption of the normal flow of traffic through the port.

* * *

Father's Effort to Save Child.—A father's efforts to save the life of his five-year-old daughter, who was crushed by the motor lorry which he drove, were referred to at Dundalk District Court yesterday, when David Gibson, a lorry driver, of O'Hanlon Park, was prosecuted for dangerous driving, and for driving a vehicle with a defect in the brakes. It was alleged that the brakes were defective, but Mr. Russell, solicitor for the defendant, said that any defect was caused by the sudden effort to brake the lorry and save the child when she ran out to welcome her father and jumped in front of the moving vehicle. District Justice Goff dismissed the summonses.

Increased Pay for Labourers.—At a conference between representatives of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union and Mr. Commissioner Moynihan, Kilkenny, it was decided that, subject to ratification by the Department of Local Government and Public Health, the wages of labourers engaged on the erection of houses for the County Council at Thomastown, County Kilkenny, would be increased by 1½d. per hour, or 6s. per week. Payment of this increase, it was agreed, would be made retrospective from June 1, this decision also to be subject to ratification by the Department of Local Government and Public Health.

* * *

"A Taste of Mountjoy."—How a woman grabbed and held a thief who was stealing money from her shop, and how other members, in the words of Superintendent McDonagh, "surrounded him in a regular pincers movement," was described at Dundalk District Court yesterday, when a young man—Patrick McDonald, of Channon rock—was charged with having stolen £3 on various dates this year from the shop of Joseph Breen, Newtown. McDonald pleaded guilty. Superintendent McDonagh said that there was nothing definitely against him before, but there were certain suspicions. It was typical of his action that he never cleared out the till on any occasion. District Justice Goff remanded McDonald for a week, and ordered that he be kept in custody in the meantime, "to give him a taste of Mountjoy."

* * *

Sale of Ointment.—At Lucan District Court yesterday, before District Justice O'Sullivan, the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland summoned the Lucan Pharmacy, Lucan, for having sold a box of white precipitate ointment, the box not being labelled with the name and address of the seller. There was a second summons for having sold the ointment, a qualified chemist not being on the premises. Mr. Aloysius Moore, Inspector of the Society, gave evidence of having purchased the ointment. Ammoniated mercury was contained in the preparation. Mrs. Doran told witness that she was the proprietress. The man who sold the ointment was a qualified assistant, and Miss Anne Daly a qualified chemist. On the first summons defendants were fined £1 1s., with £1 1s. costs and £3 3s. 0d. expenses, and on the second summons £2 2s., with £1 1s. costs.

"A First Class Row."—At Ballyhaunis Court yesterday Justice Hamilton sought the opinion of Dr. A. F. Smyth in deciding if a man rendered unconscious by the blow of a spade could still remain standing and proceed some distance to his home. Dr. Smyth said it was possible, but he could not give a definite reply. The defendants in the case were the brothers Martin and Patrick Killiney, farmer's sons, of Larriney, Ballyhaunis. They were charged with seriously injuring a neighbour, John Horkan. The trouble arose over a right-of-way on Killiney's land, on which Horkan said that he was stopped by the defendants, Martin Killiney striking him on the left side of the head with a spade and Patrick on the back with a shovel. The Justice said that the case had all the ingredients of a first-class row, and there was a first-class row. He fined defendants 5s. each, and allowed 31s. expenses.

Boy Drowned in Boyne.—An inquest was held in Drogheda yesterday by Coroner Bradley into the death of William Murphy (11), of Glenmore, Sheephouse, Drogheda, who was drowned in the Boyne while bathing with other boys. Walter Scouse (14) swore that he and the deceased boy and two other boys from the Drogheda Blue School went bathing in the river at The Ramparts, Drogheda. Deceased shouted for help, and witness, who could swim a little, went to his assistance, but the deceased boy pulled him down. They both came up again, and witness shouted at the deceased boy to let go, as he was exhausted. The deceased boy did so, and went down again. Witness had to be assisted out of the water. Witness added that he and the other pupils of the Blue School had been told not to bathe in the Boyne by the teacher. The Coroner, who sat without a jury, returned a verdict of "drowned while bathing," and said that it was a pity the boys did not obey their teacher's instruction. He also commended the action of young Scouse, who, although not a strong swimmer, had gone to the deceased boy's assistance.

Germolene ASEPTIC OINTMENT
ENDS CHILD'S CRUEL SKIN TROUBLE

Mother's Intense Gratitude

Mrs. R. H. T. of Ripley, writes: "I cannot find words enough to express the praise I give to Germolene. It is wonderful. My little boy developed a terrible rash all over his body. The irritation was awful. I tried several remedies without affording any relief whatever. Suddenly I thought of Germolene. That night was the first peaceful night's sleep my boy had for several days. Within a week he was cured and thanks to Germolene he is a happy little fellow again." Germolene will soothe and heal the tortured sensitive skin of a little child, as marvellously as it will heal your skin trouble, too! No matter how bad it may be, Germolene will heal it clean. Even obstinate and painful ulcers cannot withstand its healing power.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT

THIEVES SENTENCED

(BEFORE MR. CONROY.)

John Coady, Ward's Hill, Newmarket, Dublin, was sent to jail for two months, and Cecil Baxter, Cross-sticks street, Dublin, for four months, for breaking and entering a store in Fumbally lane and stealing a quantity of woollens, copper and brass.

Mr. L. Trant McCarthy appeared for Coady, and said he had a good Army discharge.

Thefts take place when there's no one looking—but a Norwich Union Policy covers your loss. J. G. Aston, Mgr., 63 Dawson St., Dublin. (Advt.)

MOTORING OFFENCES

William Fitzpatrick Upper Dorset street, Dublin, was sentenced to a month's imprisonment, with hard labour, for driving a car without having a policy of insurance. John Dempsey, Upper Dominick street, was fined 40s. for taking the car without authority.

A charge against Fitzpatrick of driving the car while drunk was dismissed.

Evidence was given of the car having been driven off by the accused men after the owner had parked it near the Furry Glen.

John Burns, Jamaica street, a collector of rags, was charged in the Belfast Custody Court with the larceny of clothing, the property of Mary Tierney. His defence was that he got rags, and did not know that these included a jumper and other articles. He was ordered two months' imprisonment.
